GOP URGES 'VIGOROUS' MOVES AGAINST USSR

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican congressional leaders urged President John F. Kennedy today to confront the Kremlin with "vigorous" moves involving a show of strength rather than wasting energy on further negotiations.

They also urged Kennedy to give Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev a deadline on further negotiations for a nuclear test ban agreement. They said Kennedy himself proposed this during last fall's campaign.

House GOP leader Charles A. Halleck, Ind., told a news conference such a deadline might be fixed at one or two months in the future. He said Kennedy himself seemed to have indicated he was "pretty well down to the end of the road in patience on the test ban talks."

Geneva Boycotted Until Cease-Fire

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The West told the Communist world today that a realistic cease-fire must be reached in Laos if there is to be any progress in ending cold war tensions.

President John F. Kennedy said in Washington that if a true cease-fire could not be achieved with the Communists it would be "impossible" to reach agreement on many other important international questions. As if to underscore his words, the West boycotted the Geneva Conference on Laos.

The president plainly was disappointed at the continued fighting in Laos as he addressed the 1961 conference of United Press International editors and publishers in the American capital.

He spoke as informed military sources reported from Laos itself that a small force of Meo tribesmen and Royal Laotian Army men still is holding out near the main base camp at Padong.

Communist-backed rebels and Red North Viet Nam troops attacked the government base at Padong with artillery and overran the perimeter defense with infantry yesterday in defiance of the cease-fire agreement of May 3.

Eight companies of Red troops mounted the assault, driving the defenders back 10 miles to previously-prepared positions with losses of at least 10 dead and 30 wounded.

But, even though the loss of the main base at Padong was a psychological loss for the West, competent military observers at the scene said the loyal Laotian troops were a "little disorganized" after their defeat they were determined to continue the fight against the Reds.

At Geneva, the United States, Britain and France told Russia that they will continue to boycott all sessions of the Laos Peace Conference "for the time being."

A British statement said the Western delegations had taken the action to give them time to consult their home governments about the Communist cease-fire violations in Laos.

British chief delegate Malcolm MacDonald, co-chairman of the parley, personally informed Soviet delegation chief Georgi Pushkin of the Western decision at an hour-long meeting.

COUNTY CLERK AIDE APPROVED BY BOARD

Fusselman, Blair Absent During Surprise Request From Jones

A three-man Marin County Board of Supervisors today tentatively approved a surprise request by County Clerk George S. Jones for a new principal clerk to serve in the courts.

The tentative approval hikes the county clerk's budget for fiscal 1962 to more than $141,000—up $11,000 from this year.

County Administrator Alan Bruce objected in vain to the new position on two grounds.

Chairing the meeting was Supervisor Walter R. Castro. Absent were chairman William D. Fusselman and J. Walter Blair.

Jones's request for a new clerk to be second in line under one of his two present assistants was not in his original budget and was not reviewed by the finance committee (Supervisors Blair and George H. Ludy) or the county administrator.

Bruce, whose office the board has abolished effective June 23, objected on two grounds.

He said California Taxpayers Assn. figures show the Marin county clerk's budget for each 100 persons in the county is $88.29—against a state average of $53.30. Nearby counties' figures range from Santa Clara, $33.47, to Sonoma, $52.48.

Bruce also quoted the Independent-Journal as reporting Democratic and Republican party central committees were planning to request the county clerk to put voter registration on IBM to speed release of precinct lists.

At present, the list often reach the political leaders too closely before elections to be of adequate use. Bruce questioned the addition of a new clerk before automation is effected in registration.

HELEN WILSON
Cutting Down

Helen Wilson Quits Larkspur City Clerk Job

After becoming city clerk of Larkspur on an emergency basis and remaining in the post four and one-half years, Mrs. Helen Wilson resigned late last night, effective June 30, because of press of other duties.

Mrs. Wilson, who also is Larkspur librarian, told the city council: "I just had to cut down somewhere."

Mayor Arthur E. Storhaug and his fellow councilmen all expressed gratitude for her service and regret at her resignation.

RESOLUTION DUE

City Manager Ronald E. Piper was directed to prepare a written resolution or testimonial exressing the council's sentiments on Mrs. Wilson's service.

She was appointed to the position in October, 1956, and then won election to the post with 1,000 votes in April, 1957.

For a number of years before becoming city clerk, she was secretary to the city's planning commission, which she helped organize.

ATTENDED 30 YEARS

She commented today that she had attended council meetings with fair regularity for about 30 years and would miss the sessions.

The council discussed the possibility of naming Mrs. Isabel Moore, chief deputy city clerk, to Mrs. Wilson's post. But the matter was delayed until July 5.

A councilman pointed out that Mrs. Moore already is secretary-clerk in the city office, a fulltime job, and is secretary of the planning commission.

Red Threat In S. Vietnam Is Ruled Out

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara predicted confidently today that guerrilla-harassed South Vietnam will not fall to the Communists.

But he told the House Foreign Affairs Committee that South Vietnam will require increased U.S. aid in the form of both training and equipment to "deal effectively" with the guerrilla raids from the Communist-held northern half of the country.

McNamara and Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, testified in support of President John F. Kennedy's proposed new 4.5-billion-dollar foreign aid bill.

McNamara said the reason that the administration's request for military aid was raised from 1.6 billion dollars in March to 1.8 billion dollars. Today is the stepped-up Communist pressure in Southeast Asia and elsewhere.

Some Marin Officials Back Secret Meetings

The panel of one county official and three city officials were in agreement today that there are some aspects of local government which can be "private."

The four appeared on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board."

John F. McInnis, mayor of San Rafael, said: "Decisions should be made at public sessions . . . Private sessions can be held if there is no benefit to the public involved."

Lesly A. Daveler, Larkspur city councilman, said, "It is necessary in local government to meet before meetings to sign warrants and discuss minor council procedural matters."

Julius Selinger, chairman of the county personnel commission, said: "Private sessions are justified when no official action is taken. Personnel matters should be conducted privately.

"Other boards, such as school boards, should discuss acquisition of property and appraisal of property in a private work session."

John B. Ehlen, city attorney of Sausalito and former town attorney of Corte Madera, said the Brown Act states that public bodies should hold public meetings, but pointed out a recent decision in the case of Adler vs. Culver City held that private meetings can be held by a local agency for fact-finding purposes.

(The case referred to arose from a dinner given members of the Culver City Planning Commission by an applicant for rezoning, at which he explained his plans to the commissioner. The District Court of Appeals in Los Angeles decided it was not a formal meeting under terms of the law. The decision noted also that the city charter of Culver City did not require formal meetings of the planning commission.)

"I think with the enthusiasm of the Independent-Journal regarding this issue we can call the Brown Act 'the Roy Brown Act,'" Ehlen said.

(Roy A. Brown is publisher of the Independent-Journal; the Brown Act takes its name from Assemblyman Ralph Brown of Modesto, its principal author.)

McInnis said his first reaction to the issue of the San Anselmo City Council keeping secret an accounting report was, "Good grief, no!"

McInnis said he had known of other city councils holding "executive sessions" privately, at which major decisions were made before the meeting began.

"When I started my public office eight years ago, this was going on before our meetings. I refused to sit in on the sessions before the meetings and they soon stopped. We do not meet before the official San Rafael City Council meetings now," he declared.

Among the questions phoned in to the radio station was: "How can city governmental bodies keep secrets from those they are serving?"

Daveler said it would probably be that the body's thought

FAIRFAX BOY BADLY BITTEN BY RACCOON

A 14-year-old Fairfax boy was badly bitten on one hand yesterday by a raccoon, Fairfax Police Chief Clifton C. Cordes reported.

Eddie Cole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary V. Cole of 151 Tamalpais Road, was trying to trap the raccoon in a lettuce crate at 4:30 p.m. near the intersection of Park Road and Frustuck Avenue, Chief Cordes said. The raccoon had been fighting with a dog.

When Fairfax police were called, the 'coon had taken refuge in a tall tree. An officer shot the animal and took it to the county health department, where tests were under way today on the possibility of rabies.

Tractor Group To Answer Castro

DETROIT (UPI)—The "tractors for freedom" committee today was drafting its formal reply to Fidel Castro's demand that an American delegation go to Cuba to arrange the trade of tractors for prisoners. Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt said the answer would be "no."

Walter P. Reuther, United Auto Workers Union president and a leading member of the committee, was reported drafting the committee's formal answer at his union's headquarters here.

Kennedy To Vacation

NAACP Aide, N.Y. Attorney Riders Jailed

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Eleven more "freedom riders"—including a New York state assemblyman and the president of the New York NAACP—arrived in Jackson, Miss., today and were arrested.

The white assemblyman, New York City attorney Mark Lane, 33, and his Negro companion, Atty. Percy Sutton, 40, were taken into custody after using a segregated rest room at the airport terminal.

About an hour after Lane and Sutton arrived on a flight from Montgomery, Ala., nine youths, four of them white girls, arrived by train from New Orleans and were arrested in the "white only" waiting room at the Illinois Central train depot.

This brought to 92 the number of pro-integration riders to be arrested in Jackson in the past 15 days.

A large group of officers was on hand to greet the riders from New Orleans. First to enter the depot waiting room reserved for whites were the five girls in the group, including one Negro.

One spectator remarked on the youthfullness of the girl. "They're sending young ones here these days, aren't they?" he said loudly.

The girls were arrested after sitting on a waiting room bench and ignoring orders to move on. The four Negro males followed the same procedure a few seconds later, and the group was carted off to jail in a waiting paddy wagon.

School District Election On Unification Nearer

A proposal for unification of the San Jose School District with the Novato Unified School District may go to the polls in November.

The proposal was approved last night at a meeting of the Marin County Committee on School District Organization. As proposed, unification would mean a $3.30 operational tax for the new district and rule by a newly elected five-member board of trustees, elected at large.

Approval of the unification proposal came on a 9-4 vote after defeat of a motion favoring annexation made by Earl G. Marshall, a member of the county committee but also on the board of the Novato district.

Marshall said today he would wait for further expression of public opinion before deciding whether to continue his fight for annexation rather than unification.

William Kirk, another Novato board member who has favored annexation, said, "I won't work against unification—If that's what they want. All of us want a merger."

The Novato board is split 3-2 for unification, with Marshall and Kirk favoring annexation. Members of the San Jose School Board since the beginning of this move toward merger have stated they are for unification.

Marshall made his annexa-

Meat Of Kennedy Talk To Congress Leaders Revealed

Khrushchev Held To Raise Voice Over Berlin Question, Rap Castro

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy has informed congressional leaders that Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev raised his voice when he told him in Vienna that West Berlin is a bone that must come out of the Soviet throat.

The president also reported Khrushchev indicated he regards Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro as unstable—and not a Communist.

Kennedy briefed influential members of both parties at a 90-minute White House conference Tuesday before he told the nation in a television-radio broadcast a few hours later that the West is ready to maintain its rights in Berlin "at any risk."

The briefing was said to have disclosed that Khrushchev was vitally interested in only two subjects at this time—Berlin and a change in the secretariat direction of the U.N.

So reported by responsible sources, these were some of the major topics discussed:

Berlin—Khrushchev has not changed his position of more than two years' standing that he intends to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany. He fixed no date for this action.

The only time Khrushchev raised his voice in the whole period of discussion was when he talked about Berlin and used the bone in the throat phrase he has employed before.

United Nations—Khrushchev contended the U.N. actions in the Congo were not neutral but were pointed against Soviet interests. Never again, he said, would the Soviet Union be placed in a position where its national security policies could be interfered with by the U.N.

This was the beginning, he indicated of the "troika" policy under which the Soviets would insist that the unanimous vote of a three-man board—on which the East, West and a neutral would be represented—direct the actions of international commissions, including the United Nations.

Cuba—Khrushchev does not regard Castro as a Communist. But he told Kennedy "you are well on the way to making him a good one." The Soviet leader indicated he regards Castro as unstable.

Laos—Khrushchev said he wasn't interested in trying to make the Laotian government Communist. He would be glad to settle for a neutral regime.

Wars — Khrushchev said there were three kinds. He predicted that there will never be a nuclear war. If it is a conventional war, he said, "we will put five divisions where you put one."

The third kind was a "holy" war of peoples trying to overthrow tyrannical governments. He said the Soviets will support such movements.

Nuclear Testing — Khrushchev stuck firmly by his demand for "troika" control.

Death Camp Files Altered, Court Is Told

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP)—A woman survivor of the Auschwitz death camp testified today at the Adolf Eichmann trial that persons gassed or shot were not recorded—or their files were destroyed—so that camp registry books showed only disease as a cause of death.

"According to the files, nobody was killed in Auschwitz—not one," said Raya Kagan, who worked in the camp as a clerk and now is an official in the Israeli foreign ministry.

YOUNG GIRL

The Lithuanian-born woman told the trial court she was sent to Auschwitz as a young girl from France, where she had been studying. She said in Auchwitz she was chosen "haphazardly" as a clerk because she could speak German. She said she and a few other Jewish women worked in the camp administration office which registered the deaths and the live prisoners of Auschwitz.

Mrs. Kagan said there were forms even for punishment of inmates, listing how many whip lashes were given to a prisoner or how much time he spent in a tiny arrest cell in which he could only stand.

ALL CAMOUFLAGE

"We received certificates of death," she continued, "and in a short time it became clear to us that this was a camouflage. We had to record in the forms all sorts of diseases as cause of death such as pneumonia, general weakness, syphilis and so on."

She said the files also recorded "the number of gold teeth, artificial teeth, anything of value."

Miss Kagan said she did not recall a single case of a Jew being freed from Auschwitz by the Nazis.

Argentina Held 'Soft' On Castro

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Foreign Minister Adolfo Mugica indicated publicly to Ambassador Adlai Stevenson last night that Argentina might not support U.S. action against Cuba's Premier Fidel Castro.

Mugica, offering a toast to Stevenson at a banquet here, said this country will support President John F. Kennedy's proposed "alliance for progress" — provided there is no "unilateral action in cores of hemispheric tension which might multiply those tensions rather than relieve them."

In reply, Stevenson said he accepted Mugica's conditions for Argentina cooperation with the Kennedy plan. He said he had been impressed by this country's "determined recovery from past misfortunes."

Mugica, who gave the banquet in Stevenson's honor, lavished praise on his guest and on the United States.

He praised the Marshall Plan, saying it "gave tremendous economic and monetary aid to distressed nations without compromising their national sovereignty," and described Stevenson as "one of the most prominent men of the United States and the world."

Earlier, Stevenson was closeted for three hours with President Arturo Frodizzi, discussing Argentina's need for U.S. aid.

The goodwill ambassador said after the meeting that the talks were "most satisfactory," although the problem of Argentina's needs was not "finally resolved."

Informed sources said the talks ranged over a long list of questions, including Argentine fears that Kennedy's "food for peace" plan might harm this country's economy.

Kennedy Suffering From Back Strain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy has suffered a case of back strain which may require him to use crutches temporarily, the White House said today.

Dr. Janet Travell, White House physician, said there was "no serious concern" about the ailment and she is "confident it will remedy itself with proper treatment."

At first, the White House said Kennedy would be using crutches today, but while Press Secretary Pierre Salinger was reporting this to newsmen, the President called him to say he would try another day without them.

The strain was suffered, Salinger said, when Kennedy lifted several spades full of dirt at a tree-planting ceremony in Ottawa, Canada, May 16.

Kennedy used crutches "to try to improve the condition" during his two-day rest at Hyannis Port, Mass., two weekends ago before leaving on his arduous one-week trip to Europe, Salinger said.

The President has been afflicted with back trouble in the past and at one time underwent an operation for the ailment.

Kennedy suffered a back injury during World War II when a PT boat he commanded was rammed by a Japanese destroyer. The injury ultimately required major surgery and during that period Kennedy, then a U.S. senator, used crutches.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Peace Corps Plea

CHICAGO (AP)—A plea to lend 50,000 skilled Americans to work with the Peace Corps in underdeveloped nations has drawn prompt endorsement from most organized labor and generally favorable reaction from industry.

But many business leaders qualified their support of yesterday's appeal by R. Sargent Shriver Jr., director of the Peace Corps.

Shriver, in a commencement address at De Paul University, said the Peace Corps has 10,000 applicants and that almost 4,000 of them had taken their first round of qualification tests. But, he said, the Peace Corps already has requests for more than 4,000 Americans to work in just eight countries.

Algeria Peace Talks

EVIAN-LES-BAINES, France (UPI)—French officials said today that three weeks of "exploratory talks" with the Algerian Moslem rebels have produced little, if any, concrete results, but there was no intention of calling off negotiations.

French delegation spokesman Philippe Thibaut said yesterday the "first phase of exploration is over" and "real negotiations" were scheduled to start with the 11th session this afternoon.

Delegates of the Algerian provisional government said they did not agree that the exploration phase was over. They insisted it still was continuing.

Tom Neal To Wed

PALM SPRINGS (UPI) — Tom Neal, the ex-actor who thrashed Franchot Tone in a fight for the affections of actress Barbara Peyton 10 years ago, said he will be married tonight in Las Vegas. He will marry Gail Evatt, 25, a brunette who has nothing to do with show business.

Hope In Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Hopes of an early meeting of the Congolese Parliament were boosted considerably today by reports that leftist leader Antoine Gizenga will come from Stanleyville if he can count on United Nations protection.

Reliable sources said Gizenga had proposed his participation in a meeting of parliament in a letter to special U.N. envoy Robert Gardiner of Ghana at Stanleyville a few days ago.

The United Nations declined to confirm or deny the report.

Embittered Farmers

MORLAIX, France (AP)—Some 4,000 Brittany farmers, embittered over the government's farm price structure, invaded Morlaix today aboard tractors and trucks.

The French Interior Ministry in Paris ordered a company of 130 tough riot police to move into the town. They were expected early this afternoon.

The farmers began streaming into Morlaix about dawn blocking highways around the town of 13,000 and the main streets with their vehicles. They occupied the local administrative building, held it for several hours and then withdrew and massed in the center of the town.

U-2 Pilot Negotiations

BRUNSWICK, Ga. (AP) — Negotiations are underway with the Soviet Union to shorten the 10-year prison term given U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers, says Dr. James E. Baugh, Mrs. Powers' doctor.

The Milledgeville, Ga., doctor, who accompanied Barbara Powers to Moscow last August, told of the negotiations at a Brunswick Rotary Club luncheon yesterday.

"Yes, I have definite information," he said. "I'd rather not say anything on it."

Rocket Belt Makes Man Fly Like Bird

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A practical, working rocket belt, torn from the pages of science-fiction, has made a reality of mankind's age-old dream of flying with the birds.

A twist of a throttle, a turn of a lever, and man leaps from the ground, his own personal rocket belt strapped to his back. He hovers in the air, he flies over rivers, he flits up a hill that would leave him breathless to climb.

30 FLIGHTS

All this was revealed today by Bell Aerosystems Co., which developed the belt—called a Small Rocket Lift Device—for the Army Transportation Research Command.

Test engineer Harold M. Graham has made 30 successful test flights this spring. Bell said Graham achieved a speed of about 20 miles an hour. His longest horizontal flight was 360 feet. He did not try for any great altitude, but the belt carried him up a steep, 30-foot-high hill with ease.

GAS GENERATOR

The rocket belt is powered by hydrogen peroxide. When forced into a gas generator where it meets a catalyst, it decomposes into steam. Discharged through two nozzles directed toward the ground, this steam provides the thrust.

The position of the nozzles, set out from the sides of the device, plus the low temperature of the steam, eliminate the need for protective clothing for the operator.

The propulsion system is mounted on a fiberglass corset moulded to fit the wearer's back and hips. It is secured in front by two quick-release safety belts.

BEAUTY CROWN WINNER CAN'T TELL A LIE

NEW YORK (UPI)—Brunette Marcia Banks shaped up (36-22-34) well enough to win the Miss New York State beauty crown, but she was lacking in one qualification.

Marcia blinked her hazel eyes yesterday and admitted to beauty contest officials that she lied about her age when she won the title Memorial Day.

Miss Banks, who would have represented New York in the Miss Universe contest, revealed that she was only 17 years old. Miss Universe rules stipulate that the contestant must be at least 18.

Marcia won't make the age until Dec. 11.

Army Working On New Type Of Radar

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has embarked on development of a new type of radar that holds promise of meeting some of the criticism aimed at the Nike-Zeus anti-missile system.

It's called phased radar and involves emitting an electronic beam to scan the skies for oncoming enemy missiles so Nike-Zeus rockets can seek them out and destroy them far from targets in the United States.

Such a radar device, if proved successful, would replace the heavy rotating scanning structures now in use.

Army specialists said today the new type radar would do its job rapidly and precisely.

These specialists said it would be simpler and less costly than the models now in use.

Disclosure of the new Army approach came yesterday in a brief statement announcing award of a nearly five-million-dollar contract to the Western Electric Co.

Epilepsy Society Program Tuesday

The Marin Epilepsy Society will present a program for its first county sponsoring group, the Marin Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club, at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Embers, Corte Madera.

Speaker at the regular luncheon meeting of the Welcome Wagon group will be Dr. Eugene P. Shatkin, pediatrician with offices in San Rafael. Also on the program will be a film on epilepsy, "The Dark Wave."

Straw Hat Review In Hub To Reopen

Festival Theater in San Anselmo will reopen its Straw Hat Revue, "If You Can't Lick 'Em —" next Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. on the San Francisco Theological Seminary campus. The Strawhatters have just returned from New York.

The revue, which played to capacity audiences here in April, will be performed Wednesday through Saturday nights at 8:30 for a limited run. The opening performance next Wednesday will be free. First nighters may telephone for reservations.

Novato Reports Mail Box Thefts

A mail thief has been pilfering letters and checks from a mailbox on Indian Valley Road in Novato, according to a Novato postal official.

Harry Overly of Novato Post Office told sheriff's deputies yesterday that about seven letters were stolen from the box of Jean James, 1840 Indian Valley Road. They were scattered at a home construction site about a block east of the victim's home. About four checks are missing, Overly reported.

Testimony Is Given On Drug Price List

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Mayor Marsh Pine of Chico testified yesterday that he appointed the committee whose drug price list led to the government's antitrust suit against the Northern California Pharmaceutical Association.

That was in 1936. Pine, a Chico druggist, was then president of the association.

Testifying in the antitrust suit in federal district court, Pine said he appointed the committee because NCPA directors felt "prescription pricing was haphazard. Some of the prices were particularly low or stupidly high."

Pine appointed Donald K. Hedgepeth chairman of the association's pricing committee. Hedgpeth, still chairman, is accused jointly with the association of conspiring to fix prices of prescription drugs sold in Northern California pharmacies.

The Chico mayor said he appointed the committee to study methods of writing a fair and equitable price formula. He said he didn't think there was any intent to bring out an association price list.

The so-called Hedgpeth schedule of prices for prescription drugs, now widely used in Northern California, was issued in January, 1957.

Nancy Gros Gets Second Divorce

Nancy Majors Gros of Belvedere, who won a Marin divorce from Pacific Gas and Electric executive Robert R. Gros six weeks ago, got another divorce yesterday in Reno.

Mrs. Gros, represented by Reno Dist. Atty. William J. Raggio, charged extreme cruelty.

In the Marin divorce granted on April 24, she received cash, furnishings at their home at 78 Lagoon Road, and a splitting up of wedding gifts received at the time of their marriage in October, 1958. After the Marin divorce, she went to Reno.

Gros said at the time that neither had plans for a new marriage, that they just "wanted to make the break as soon as possible."

Bolivia Reported Crushing Armed Plot By Communists

LA PAZ, Bolivia (UPI)—Bolivia was reported quiet early today under modified martial law imposed by President Victor Paz Estenssoro's government to crush a plot aimed at "armed Communist intervention."

Reports that workers in the nationalized tin mines planned "hunger marches" at Catavi, Llallagua and Sigmo Veinte created the prospect of possible trouble later in the day.

The Paz regime proclaimed a state of siege yesterday and suspended civil rights. The governing MNR party called for a state of emergency and education authorities closed down the schools.

Informed sources said at least 25 alleged plotters had been arrested, including union leaders Ireneo Pimentel and Federico Escobar.

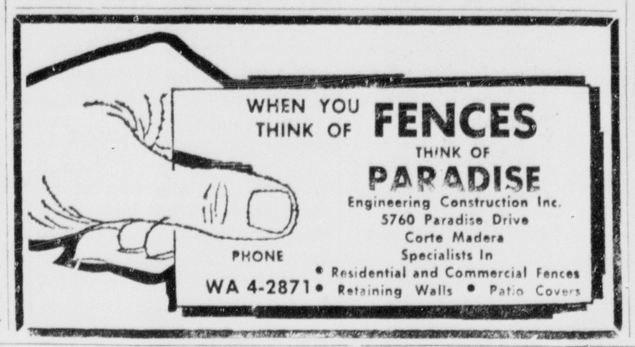

Beauty Queens At Junior Museum

Two beauty queens will help Marin County Junior Museum get its open house underway tomorrow from 7 to 9 p.m.

"Miss Marin County," 18-year-old Pam Stettler of San Rafael, and "Miss San Francisco," Lana Green, will announce the winner of a week's vacation in Hawaii, reported David N. Plant, museum president.

Plant invited the public to attend the open house tomorrow and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and see the remodeled museum at 76 Albert Park Lane, San Rafael.

Hawaiian entertainment will be provided tomorrow evening in keeping with the open house's island theme.

Mill Valley Council Told 2 Sludge Beds Sinking

Two sludge drying beds at the two-year-old $500,000 Mill Valley Sewage Treatment Plant are sinking, the city council was told last night, and action must be taken soon to put one back into working condition.

The plant has four sludge drying beds.

The council voted unanimously to refer the matter to City Atty. Thomas C. Nelson to check into the cost of rehabilitation of the beds on a temporary basis. Nelson is to work with City Engineer Stanley M. Bala and City Manager A. E. Almcrants.

Bala estimated temporary repairs will cost the city $5,350.

Consulting engineer Roy M. Trotter said the settling of the beds is uncontrollable and will require reconstruction every two to four years. He suggested that the city might wish to install a bird centrifuge system to be used in place of the beds and to cost $47,220.

Councilman George Blackwell brought out that it is possible for the city to make a claim against the engineering firm. City Attorney Nelson said the city can take action if it is found the firm was negligent. "It might go to the extent of rebuilding the whole thing. That would be a very extensive operation," he said.

The council heard a letter from planning consultant Robert Cornish in which Cornish asked for an early meeting with County Planning Director Mary Summers to discuss planning matters of joint interest to Mill Valley and the county.

Cornish said that, contrary to statements made Monday at a Mill Valley budget session by Councilman Blackwell, he has been trying, unsuccessfully since last August to meet with Mrs. Summers.

The council decided to ask Cornish to appear at the June 19 budget hearing at which time the renewal of his contract, ending June 30, will be discussed. Building inspector Preston L. Canfield will also be asked to attend and councilmen said the contract of City Auditor Warren G. LeFort would be discussed at that time.

The council also:

1. Accepted the low bid of Brown-Ely Co. of San Rafael of $4,560 to grade, put in a six-inch base, necessary drainage and oil a one-quarter mile section fronting Pirkle Jones property on Lovell Avenue. The money was provided by Jones as a condition of his subdivision.
2. Authorized a "yield" sign to be placed at Vista Linda and Glen Drive.
3. Voted 4-1, Councilman Blackwell voting "no," to uphold the planning commission denial of a use permit requested by V. R. Randolph to build a service station at 660 East Blithedale Avenue.
4. Requested Nelson to draw up a suitable amendment to the sign ordinance to provide that, after there are four signs on a building, no extra signs be permitted except on application of the building's owner.

Victim's Sight

Marin General Hospital spokesmen said today it was too early to tell if the vision will be impaired of James Francis Golden, 42, of Inverness, who suffered a severe eye injury in a fight at Point Reyes Station Monday.

Ad Salesman's Court Date Set

W. J. Ranney, 27, of 295 Tamalpais Road, Fairfax, is scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court next Wednesday to plead to a grand theft charge.

He was arraigned yesterday and freed on $2,625 bail. Inspector Donald Midyett of the district attorney's office said Ranney is suspected of pocketing money which belonged to an advertising firm for which he worked.

According to the inspector, Ranney sold an advertisement to a Fairfax car agency last April. But instead of collecting the $275, he had the car agency do repairs on his car, in exchange for the advertising. The inspector said that Ranney's employer, Eric Longmire of Concord, reports he is short about $3,000.

Washington State Gas Tax Takes Huge Jump

OLYMPIA, Wash. (UPI) — Washington drivers are paying six and a half more cents tax on a gallon of gasoline than they did a year ago.

The Washington Legislature recently approved a gasoline tax increase to seven and a half cents a gallon from the old penny a gallon tax.

No Wires, No Calls

SAPULPA, Okla. (AP)—There were no telephone calls for many residents in rural areas around Sapulpa recently.

Mill Valley Rejects Scott Valley Plan

The Mill Valley City Council decided by a 3-2 vote last night not to recommend approval of the new Scott Valley Master Plan to the Marin County Planning Commission.

The two "yes" votes were cast by Mayor Robert D. Huber and Councilman Michael Wornum.

The plan, which is to have a continued hearing before the Marin County Planning Commission June 19, proposes rezoning of 188 acres in the Alto Bowl from single family to a zoning which could include apartments. The land is bounded by Lomita Drive in Alto, Hidden Valley in Corte Madera and Highway 101.

The Mill Valley Planning Commission recommended approval of the plan last week.

Wornum said he is interested in a more imaginative use of the land such as the plan proposes.

"We have had, up to this time, a ghetto type of development," he said.

Councilman George Blackwell opposed Wornum's motion saying it would be, in effect, asking the Marin County Planning Commission to change the Mill Valley Master Plan.

Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks said he favored the plan but that there are still "too many imponderables."

"I think," he said, "the county government has ceased to become responsive to the voice of the electorate . . . It is not at all certain that the regulations will find their way into an ordinance enacted by the board of supervisors."

Mrs. Elizabeth Rodman, former city councilman and a spokesman for several community improvement associations in the Alto Bowl area, urged the council to discuss the plan saying this meeting would be the only one at which the council could express itself prior to the county planning commission's next hearing.

Rolland B. Hammond, Mill Valley architect who drew up the plan for Marin Capital Co., went over its aspects in detail.

Speaking against the proposed rezoning from neighboring communities were F. J. McClain, chairman of the Alto District Assn.; N. Robert Heyer of the Sutton Manor Home Owners Assn., and Mrs. W. W. Nichols of the Meadowsweet Improvement Assn.

COLLEGE SPEAKER — Dr. Clarence P. Shedd, professor emeritus of religion at Yale University, will be commencement speaker at College of Marin's graduation exercises at 4 p.m. Sunday on the college lawn. His address is entitled, "Winds of Change."

Labor Council Hits Canceling Administrator

The Marin County Labor Council last night voted to protest to the board of supervisors against abolishment of the office of county administrator.

The council's executive committee had proposed such a protest.

The council also concurred with its executive committee in advocating passage of the one-million dollar county hospital bond issue and approval of a federal program of housing for the elderly, both of which will be decided in a special election June 27.

Reports of a pickup in employment came from various unions at last night's meeting.

L. J. Walz and Don DuPurtius of the Carpenters Union locals reported the out-of-work lists of their locals had dwindled. These reports were echoed by other building trades union representatives.

Charles Weers of the Sheetmetal Workers Union reported approval by the membership of a new contract with a 20-cent hourly increase this year and additional benefits to be included next year.

Omar McNally of the Machinist Union and Roy Curry of the Plastic Workers Union reported negotiations under way.

RUBBER STAMP FOR WORNUM

He became one at 12:35 a.m. today.

His fellow councilmen presented him a rubber stamp of his name, and a rubber stamp pad.

This came about because at an earlier meeting, Wornum was the only councilman urging that the council's names be printed on city letterheads.

Said Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks: "Now the matter is solved. Stamp your own name.

Novato High Students Elect Stephen Bruff President

Stephen Bruff was elected president of the Novato High School student body Tuesday.

The vote count, completed yesterday, resulted in runoff elections being scheduled today for student body vice president, senior class president and four other offices, since no candidates gained a majority of the vote.

Bruff defeated Douglas Rosenberg.

Karen Prater was elected student body secretary; Sandra Thomas was elected treasurer.

No vote tallies for the election were released. Students also voted Tuesday on whether vote counts should be made public. School officials reported about 60 per cent favored public announcement.

But the student council is to meet tomorrow to interpret the school constitution. The vote on public vote announcement may need 75 per cent voter approval.

Others elected were Ronald Greene, inter-school relations representative; Donald Scribner, Boys' League president; Edward Salmina, Boys' League vice president; Susan Stafford, Girls' League president; Patricia Baseheart, vice president of the league; Diane Katlarz, secretary; Collene Richards, treasurer.

Elections are scheduled tomorrow for commissioner of social affairs, commissioner of assemblies, senior girls' student council representative, and sophomore class treasurer.

A Likely story!

THAT SPOT OF COLOR TELLS THE REAL STORY

Let's Face it! The little woman is usually an expert in colors. For instance, when she comes to Marin Color Service, it's not enough that we give her "almost" or "come close" to the shade of paint she wants. "Close" or "almost" is not good enough . . . it has to be exact. That's why we carry the most complete stock and variety of paints, colors and shades. That's why we have mechanical mixing and duplicator machines that can't err even the slightest fraction in preparing your order. Our staff also believes that "exactness" extends much further than matching colors—and that is why their aid and suggestions are precise . . . their desire to give you service so noticeable.

Need a quick-drying, hard-finish, all-purpose enamel that is easy to apply . . . takes all kinds of wear (both inside and out) and can be used on almost any surface? We recommend L and H Modern-Lux. Quarter pints . . . 54c Half pints . . . 89c Pints . . . 1.53 Quarts . . . 2.82

ATLAS MISSILE EXPLODES

Flames and smoke covered the area as an Atlas intercontinental missile blew up at Vandenberg Air Force Base yesterday during a combat-readiness test. The Air Force said the explosion, in which no one was injured, was due to malfunction. The blast was inside a "coffin" launch pad in which the missile lies horizontally until raised upright for fueling and firing. (AP Wirephoto)

College's Ward Austin Honored At Assembly

Ward H. Austin, retiring president of the College of Marin, yesterday received a standing ovation from more than 400 students who attended an installation and awards assembly at Olney Hall.

Austin was told by Barry McGough, student body president, that the executive council of the Associated students had created an annual Ward H. Austin book scholarship in recognition and appreciation of his long service to the college. How to award this $25 scholarship at the beginning of each fall semester would be left up to Austin, McGough said.

In accepting the honor, Austin told the students: "It has been a wonderful experience to see the school grow as it has . . . we hope to meet and see your sons and daughters at the College of Marin."

Also honored were Mrs. Juanita Willis, assistant to the business manager, who retires on June 30 after 16 years of service, and Miss Grace Donnan, registrar, who retires July 31 after 30 years with the college.

Both received lifetife student body cards and plaques.

Incoming student officers who were installed include: Thomas Schultz, Ross, president; Marc Mezzetta, Larkspur, vice president; Judith Duerson, Corte Madera, secretary; Ellen Scott, San Anselmo, publicity commissioner; Patty Lou Johnson, Kentfield, yell leader, and Elizabeth Yore, Kentfield, song leader.

Drama awards went to Daniel White, San Anselmo, for outstanding service as business and publicity manager; Vivian Olds, Kentfield, for best supporting role; Dona Fry, Kentfield, for best actress, and Hampton Hoge, San Rafael, best actor.

The Tower Times awards for journalism were made to Mahmoud Abouzeid Jr. of Mill Valley and Davidina Pagano of San Rafael.

Three acts from the Hungry I in San Francisco entertained the students following the awards presentation.

John A. Burke, Tom Farley and Sarah Griffith will be recognized as winners in the Marin County Science Fair.

Linda Haines will be announced as the winner of the Tri Delta Alumni scholarship and David Wilkins wins a scholarship from Whitman College.

Bill Would Require TB Examination

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Local school boards could require all teachers to take tuberculosis examinations under a bill ready for Assembly action today.

At present, local boards are required to honor requests for exemption from teachers of "well recognized religious sects" which believe in health through prayer.

The bill by Sen. Walter W. Stiern (D-Bakersfield) originally made the examinations mandatory for all teachers. Yesterday, the Assembly Public Health Committee faced with strong opposition from the Christian Science Church, first killed, then revived and amended the bill to provide local option.

Stiern said after a Van Nuys teacher who died of the disease, 100 of her students took examinations and 21 had positive reactions to tuberculosis tests.

Another Bill Aimed At 10 Per Centers Signed

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Another bill aimed at eliminating fraudulent 10 per center operations has been signed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The measure by Assemblyman Richard T. Hanna (D-Garden Grove) authorizes private mortgage insurance corporations to guarantee loans on new houses, provided there is no secondary financing on them.

Last week the governor signed a bill increasing the amount a savings and loan association can loan on a house from 80 to 90 per cent of appraised value.

Both bills are designed to limit the operations of companies who sell second trust deeds to the public, and in the past have advertised a "guaranteed 10 per cent return."

Hanna's major anti-10 per center bill-imposing stricter regulation on sellers of second trust deeds—is pending before a Senate committee.

Girls Drum Corps For Novato Parade

St. Mary's Chinese Girls Drum Corps, which marched in President John F. Kennedy's inaugural parade, will be star performers in Novato's Western Weekend parade.

Officials of the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce which sponsors Western Weekend, June 16-18, received confirmation today of the drum corps' appearance. The parade will begin at 11 a.m., June 17 and include more than 120 units.

Unfortunate Request

WEST SENECA, N.Y. (AP)—William A. Kennick asked policemen to help him push his stalled automobile. Officers recognized the car, arrested him on a stolen car charge.

Tiburon Firemen Dance Slated

The Tiburon Volunteer Firemen's Assn. annual dance will be held at the Corinthian Yacht Club in October, it was decided at last night's meeting, President Allen A. Olson said. The date has not been set.

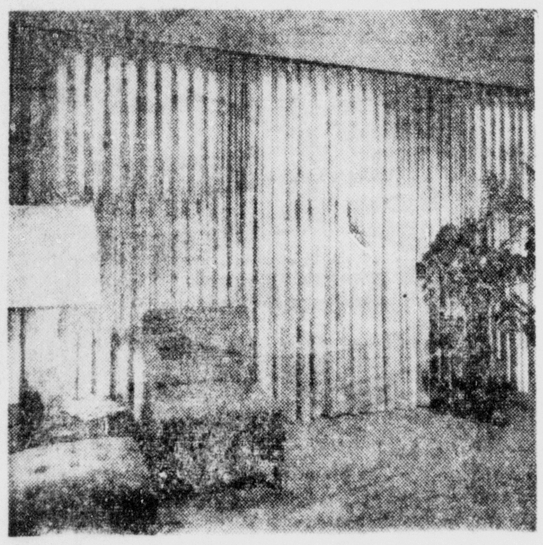

Fred C. Hannahs was appointed chairman of a committee to obtain a suitable memorial plaque for installation in the main fire station honoring the department's dispatcher, Howard O. Douglass, who died recently.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

An Aloha For The Summer To Developers' MAHOA

The Marin Apartment House Owners Assoc. held its last meeting for the summer last Tuesday.

Up to a few years ago there didn't seem to be much need for such an association in the county; the amount of income property outside of duplexes was relatively small. But heavy multiples took a sharp upward swing and a lot of new apartment owners found themselves faced with a lot of common problems. Last August a few of the larger developers joined together and the MAHOA was incorporated as a non-profit organization.

Today the association has increased to about 75 members (including associate members) representing approximately 1,000 rental units. The group is affiliated with the national and state apartment house owners associations and offers its members help with legal opinions, rental and lease forms, rental referrals, mass purchasing discounts and access to a master credit file.

Whether we will it or not, the face of Marin is changing. Association president Ernest Kettenhofen estimates about 1,000 new rental units have been constructed in the last 12 months and the pace still continues.

"So far we haven't had the vacancy problem of the lower peninsula and San Jose," he says, "and we believe the saturation point is still a long way off."

Members seem agreed that the absence of any dominating industry in the county subject to layoffs is a steadying factor. And Marin apartments being fresh and new for the most part are drawing in city dwellers who have been paying equivalent rentals for "old stuff."

ASSISTANT MARIN County Planner Bill Dobbs talked to realtors this week on "The Community, the Builder and the Vacant Lot" and tried to clarify for them the planning commission's viewpoint on what can be done with property leftovers remaining after major community development has taken place.

Such "back-filling" pieces, he said, are frequently nonconforming by reason of size and other factors, and are looked upon in different lights by speculator, prospective owner realtor, architect and contractor. About half the proposals submitted to the planning commission for their use involve variances which are not necessarily the right answer for the neighborhood which has to be considered first.

Other complicating problems often arise from the popular misconception by many out-of-towners that once you leave the "big city" there is no such thing as zoning—or that there is only one zoning in all suburban areas. In other words, anything goes.

WE'VE NOTICED a healthy jump in May real estate sales over May, 1960—about 57 per cent.

Dan Deedy of the Marin County Real Estate Board says the increased property disposals under multiple listing for the first five months of 1961 were around $4,500,000 higher than during the same period last year.

IT'S BIRTHDAY TIME at Thrifty Drug Stores from now through June 18. The drug, variety and junior department store chain is celebrating its 32nd anniversary.

Corte Madera Shopping Center and Montecito Shopping Center outlets in Marin are featuring special prices on throw rugs, nylons, record albums, chicken fryers, electric razors, radios, unpainted bar stools, toys, games and other items.

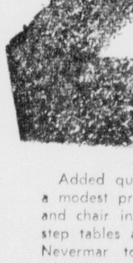

Japan's new 10-year-plan envisages raising the standard of living of workers and farmers 100 per cent.

Wildflower Film For Nature Group

A film on wildflowers in the western states will be shown at Marin County Nature Group's 8 p.m. meeting tomorrow in Room 40, College of Marin, Kentfield.

The group will visit Point Reyes Lighthouse area Sunday, leaving from Circle Drive at College of Marin at 9:30 a.m., Charles Hudson, president, reported.

Novatan To Court For Impersonating Officer

A Novato man, charged with personating a California High-impersonating a California Highway Patrol captain and stopping a car full of Novato girls in April, is scheduled to appear tomorrow in Marin Municipal Court.

Jack A. Felgenhauer, 35, of 1191 Leafwood Drive, who works for a South San Francisco pipe fitting firm, was free today on $262.50 bail.

Novato Police Chief Roy C. McLaren said Felgenhauer admitted identifying himself as a CHP captain and said he had made a "mistake in judgment." Novato police also learned that Felgenhauer was involved in another incident last year when a youth complained the man tried to run him down with a car, Chief McLaren said.

Novato authorities said on April 12, Felgenhauer stopped a car driven by Mary Ann Colebourn, 1108 Elm Street, Novato, and accused her of reckless driving. He followed the girls to the Colebourn home and talked to Mr. and Mrs. William Colebourn.

When Felgenhauer threatened to cite the girls, Colebourn told him to go ahead if he thought a citation was warranted. But before Colebourn could get the man's credentials, Felgenhauer left.

The district attorney said he understood Felgenhauer was to apologize to all concerned and the matter would have been closed. But when he failed to apologize, the district attorney issued a complaint.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks suffered a minor loss today after a late afternoon rally brought many issues well up from their lows and others into the plus column.

Du Pont rose well over two points and General Electric about one to keep the Dow-Jones industrial average fairly close to home and balance out a drop of more than two for Woolworth.

International Business Machines and Hershey Chocolate sagged close to five each.

Planners Ask Road Study In Novato

Novato Planning Commissioners last night asked a planning study of citizen proposals for Sutro and Wilson Avenues in the city.

A citizens planning group had proposed upgrading of Sutro from a major land service road generally benefitting adjacent property owners to "major thoroughfare" classification, aimed at handling more through traffic.

The committee also had recommended that Wilson Avenue, now a major thoroughfare, be downgraded to "feeder road," one which would link through streets.

The proposals are in line with the citizen recommendation that San Jose Boulevard be extended west to Sutro Avenue for a 'round-the-city roadway.

The discussion session of the citizens report by the planning commission last night was the second in a series on the eight citizen reports which will lead to a new master plan for the city.

The planning staff was directed to bring back to the commission comments on the Sutro-Wilson proposals, while Mrs. Mary Summers, county planning director, noted that the State Division of Highways had begun a study of extension of Atherton Avenue to the west.

The next planning session will be at 8 p.m. next Wednesday at the city hall and will center on the citizens' report on public facilities.

Larkspur School Budget Meeting

The preliminary budget for 1961-62 will be taken up by trustees of the Larkspur School District at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

The board will also discuss the Corte Madera Town Council's denial of the proposed parking lot on the street right of way at the San Clemente School site. The landscaping plans for the school will also come before the board.

Other items on the agenda include granting permission for the Corte Madera Sanitary District to run a pipe through the driveway at the Neil Cummins School and making contracts with the county superintendent of schools for library and audio-visual service and rental of a special education classroom.

Bicycle Safety Program Saturday

The seventh annual bicycle safety program, sponsored by the Larkspur-Corte Madera joint recreation commission, will be held from 10 a.m. to noon this Saturday and June 17, at the Neil Cummins school playground.

The program will consist of two parts. The first will be the testing bicycles for mechanical condition. The second will be tests for skill in riding.

Help Sought For Clearing Tiburon Uplands Park

The Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission last night decided to call on conservation groups to help clear hiking trails and off street parking areas for the 18-acre Tiburon Uplands Park.

"A number of nature groups have indicated willingness to volunteer labor and we are going to try to follow it up," commissioner James Fletcher reported.

He pointed out the park just north of Tiburon (not to be confused with Paradise Beach Park which is nearby) is infested with poison oak and its boundaries have not been marked.

"Extensive improvements are not necessary," Fletcher said, pointing out the park was acquired for use as a natural area, primarily for hiking and nature study groups.

Thefts Plague Laundry Coin Change Machines

Automatic laundry machine operators throughout the county kept eyes peeled today for an ingenious thief who uses copper washers in place of 50-cent pieces to get two quarters from coin changers.

Dozens of these copper washers, the exact size of half dollars, have been found in coin changing machines in various parts of the county from San Rafael to Southern Marin.

One man, suspected of using the washer slugs, was arrested Monday in El Cerrito. He is Wallace Wesley Hollandsworth, an ex-convict living in San Francisco. But other thieves with the same method of operation are on the loose in Marin County, Inspector William Bradley of the sheriff's office warned.

Harry V. Smith Jr. of 80 Harrison Avenue, Sausalito, vice president of Transbay Enterprises Inc., told police he found about 20 copper slugs in a coin changer at his San Rafael establishment at 1566 Fourth Street.

In Tamalpais Valley, Woodley Bates Smith reported he filled the coin changer at the laundry establishment at 265 Shoreline Highway yesterday morning about 8:50. He then went to the Sausalito launderette and found slugs in a machine there.

He hurried back to Tamalpais Valley and opened up the coin changer there about noon. He found 24 slugs in the machine. Coin changers in Mill Valley proper has also been hit, Smith told sheriff's deputies.

Guide Dogs Gets $133,000 Grant

A five-year federal grant to continue its puppy research program has been awarded to Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc.

The grant, which amounts to $133,625, was announced by Edwin L. Hove of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Clarence J. Pfaffenberger, vice president in charge of research and development at Guide Dogs for the Blind, was named principal investigator. The funds will be used for a continued and more extensive study into "Factors in the Success of Guide Dogs for the Blind." No part of the grant will be used for administrative costs at the school or for servicing the blind, Pfaffenberger said.

Retiring Registrar Is Honored

By THERON A. NEWELL

Grace Donnan, registrar at College of Marin since 1931, who is retiring on July 31, was honored in a special tribute at the college's awards assembly today.

Miss Donnan has known most of the students at the college in her 30 years as registrar. So many have become her personal friends that she might be called "The Sweetheart of the College."

Such a span of years had passed since she started working for the college, that she is now serving under a board of trustees that has one member who is a son of a member of the first board that hired her. J. C. Seymour was on the board that hired Miss Donnan. His son, Kent O. Seymour, is a member of the present board. Miss Donnan was born in LeRoy, N.Y. on Jan. 25, 1899. Her mother moved the family of six children to Mill Valley in 1917, a year after the death of the father, William C. Donnan.

Miss Donnan, 30 years a registrar, never was a college student. Because of the financial strain of moving the family West after her father's death, she gave up plans to attend college. Instead, she went to Miss Miler's Secretarial School in San Francisco. This was a small school of 30 to 35 students with all classes taught at the same time. Thus a beginning student could actually attend classes for advanced students.

After one year in that school, Miss Donnan held a succession of jobs with San Francisco firms before going to Marin Junior College.

ENDS LONG SERVICE—Grace Donnan, familiar to generations of College of Marin students during her many years as registrar, was honored yesterday on the eve of her retirement from the college. (Independent-Journal photo)

It was J. C. Seymour who personally influenced her to leave her San Francisco job for one at the college.

In her early days at the college, she worked directly under the vice president, Paul Mohr, at that time.

Ward H. Austin was the next vice president, moving up to president, as which he is retiring this year. Then came Wallace W. Hall and Paul Clymer.

When students enrolled at the college, Miss Donnan and the vice president occupied the final check station in the gym. So she personally got to meet all the students that enrolled.

"That was all changed with the coming of the counseling system in 1951," she said.

In her duties as registrar, Miss Donnan has had to keep a complete record of each student who enrolls in the college. She even keeps track of many after they leave the college through transfer of credits. Thus, over the years, she has had personal contact with most of the students.

Vice President Clymer said: "She has been so able that she has taken over many jobs that others might have done. Her leaving will be a great loss to the college.

Greenbrae Firehouse Contract Let

The Larkspur City Council last night awarded the Greenbrae firehouse contract to the apparent low bidder, Inland-Pacific Construction Co. of Sausalito.

Inland bid $36,500 for the new station. G. J. Elkington and Sons, also of Sausalito, submitted a $36,827 bid—but it included a concrete driveway. Subtracting the driveway cost would have made the Elkington bid slightly lower than Inland's.

Councilmen asked City Manager Ronald E. Piper whether the concrete driveway was specified in the plans. He replied it was not.

The senior Elkington said he asked R. Richard Zahm, the architect, whether the driveway was called for and Zahm replied, "Yes."

He said that on that basis he figured the driveway cost as part of his bid.

The councilmen then voted in favor of Inland after hearing an opnion from City Atty. Samuel W. Gardiner, that Inland legally was entitled to the job.

The firehouse will be built on land on Eliseo Drive donated by Schultz Development Co.

Outracing Policemen

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Drivers who try to outrace pursuing policemen face a $1,000 fine and a year in jail under a new law recently enacted by the state legislature.

Larkspur Council Restores Planners To Full Strength

The Larkspur Planning Commission was restored to full strength last night as caterer Andrew Gilardi was named by the city council to the vacancy created by ouster of Price J. Hall.

The council voted last month to vacate Hall's position, over strenuous objections of Councilman Daniel Allen. Hall had served five years on the commission.

Gilardi's was one of four names suggested for the job. Others brought up were Harry Brocco, C. S. Bergeron and William Anderson. Only Gilardi's was voted on, however, with his approval being unanimous.

John Vandall, whose term expires June 30, was reappointed to the planning commission.

The council accepted the resignation of Mrs. R. L. Pinotti from the library board after six years service and named Mrs. Philip Haly, recommended by the board, in her stead.

City Manager Ronald E. Piper reported Larkspur burglaries on the increase with two officers spending four to six hours each night trying to track the thieves down.

Piper also appointed seven persons to a five-year report study committee. He was directed to call the first meeting and serve as an ex-officio member.

The committee is to report on Piper's five-year development plan for Larkspur. The members are Orrin Gray, Niels Schultz Jr., Robert Krieg, Robert Smith, Earl O'Grady, Larry Goldberg and David Scott.

Mayor Arthur E. Storhaug agreed to put off until Oct. 4 discussion of whether the offices of city clerk and city treasurer should be changed from elective to appointive.

The council scheduled a work session or adjourned meeting for tonight to discuss employee salaries and the proposed 1961-62 budget.

Blow To Young Drivers

DENVER, Colo. (UPI) — The Colorado Legislature recently abolished minor drivers licenses for youngsters between 15 and 16 years.

Larkspur Planners

The Larkspur Planning Commission will hold a work session at 9 a.m. Saturday in the council chambers of the city hall. The members will be briefed on what will come before them at their meeting Tuesday night.

REDMEN ON PEACE PATH IN NOVATO

Chief Red Feather, who will head an Indian village to be set up in Novato during Western Weekend, June 16-18, called at schools yesterday to do a little advance work to make sure none of the youngsters leads a raid against his redmen. The school children being too small to smoke the pipe of peace, Red Feather used the white man's microphone to tell this crowd at Marion School a little about Indians and assure them there'll be no tomahawk throwing or burning of the immigrant wagons during the Western Weekend stay. Court Drops Morals Case

Leslie Eugene McNutt, 35-year-old Inverness ranch worker will not be prosecuted on charges of morals offenses involving three young girls.

A complaint, accusing him of 11 crimes over a one-year period, was dismissed in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on recommendation of the district attorney. The mother of the three girls had brought the complaint.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Charles L. Convis said a thorough investigation by the district attorney and sheriff showed evidence is lacking to convict McNutt on the charges. Convis said McNutt and the mother of the girls were given lie detector tests, but results of the tests were inconclusive.

The district attorney, therefore recommended that the case be dismissed because of insufficient evidence. Judge Joseph G. Wilson dismissed the complaint and freed McNutt of all charges.

McNutt works on the Mendoza Ranch. The girls and their mother now live in Alameda County.

might be that the subject is not necessary for public concern.

"However, I believe in an informed electorate," he said.

Another question was: "When a city council goes in private session, how can the public find out what they are talking about?"

"People can smoke out what went on," Ehlen said. He also said it has been proved that people will eventually find out the things they want to know.

Program moderator Kitty Oppenheimer pointed out the program will be rebroadcast Sunday at 12:30 p.m. from a recording.

Larkspur Council

The Larkspur City Council will meet at 8 p.m. tonight in the council chambers of the city hall in a work session to study the preliminary budget.

Terra Linda High Student Injured In Auto Accident

A Terra Linda High School student was in "satisfactory condition" with a broken left leg today after the auto in which he was riding skidded off South San Pedro Road last night, San Rafael General Hospital attendants reported.

Bruce Wallace, 15, of 2 Garden Avenue, Santa Venetia, was a passenger in a car driven by David Dennis Muelrath, 16, of 21 Linda Avenue, Santa Venetia. Muelrath was treated at Marin General Hospital for multiple scrapes and bruises.

Muelrath told Highway Patrolman J. J. Flynn he was driving around a left turn on South San Pedro Road, near China Camp, when his car started skidding. He said it went out of control and ran off the road.

Also in the car were brothers Richard and Warren Kirby of 105 Garden Avenue, Santa Venetia. Both were uninjured.

'Wife Beating' Hearing Put Off

A preliminary hearing was postponed for three months yesterday for a Marinwood accountant, accused of beating his wife and cutting her with a pair of scissors last month.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas postponed the case of David Clark Swezy, 44, until Sept. 8. The judge indicated that the charge could be dropped at that time if no further problems had arisen between Swezy and his wife, Carmen Adilia Swezy, 30.

A preliminary hearing scheduled for yesterday fell through when Mrs. Swezy told the judge she did not want to testify against her husband, and she does not fear retaliation of any kind.

The alleged beating and cutting occurred at the Swezy home on Kernberry in Marinwood on the night of May 3. Mrs. Swezy ran to neighbors for help, and neighbors called the sheriff.

tion motion last night "to force them (the county committee members) into saying how they stood on the situation," he said.

Voting in favor of annexation were Alex Mitchell, Robert S. Winniford, Jack Mengel and Marshall.

Voting against it were Mrs. Adele J. Alpers, Phillip Bundschu, Mrs. Eugene Crawford, James Gibson, Robert Rogers, Wray Simmons and Novato, San Jose, San Rafael High School Board representatives. (Each unit affected in merger has one vote.) College of Marin abstained but officially is counted in the majority, making the vote 10-4.

On a motion by Bundschu for unification, the vote was 9-4. Mengel, first voting for annexation, switched to support unification. San Rafael switched, so voting "No" on both proposals. College of Marin again abstained, making the official vote 10-4.

James Gibson, Novato representative on the county committee, changed his vote from a previous meeting when he had opposed unification.

He said today, "I'm certainly not proud of my vote last night." His vote against unification was at the May 31 meeting of the county committee.

He said he changed his vote last night "to go along with the Novato board, if that's what they want," although he said "apparently the feeling in Novato is for annexation."

The unification proposal is expected to go before the state board of education for its September meeting, after which an election can be held.

Marin Gas Price War Gets Hotter

Marin County's gasoline price war was getting hotter today, as major brand stations in the Corte Madera area cut the price of regular gasoline to 24.9 cents per gallon.

Ethyl gasoline ranged from 27.9 to 29.9 at various Corte Madera stations.

In San Rafael, prices held at the levels of the past few days, with some major brand stations quoting regular at 25.9 and others at 26.9. Station operators reported rumors of further cuts, however.

"Independent" brands dropped yesterday to 23.9 for regular and 27.9 for ethyl in San Rafael, and remained at those levels today.

Convict Escapes From Prison Camp

Jack Fink, sent to prison from Mendocino County in December, 1958, for auto theft, walked away from the camp 50 miles west of Willows sometime between 10 p.m. and midnight, reported Associate Warden W. D. Achuff.

The camp is in a remote area.

Fink has served three years of a six month-to-15-year sentence. He was denied parole in May, 1960, but was scheduled for consideration again in August of this year.

Ex-Track Star Wins Fight For New Trial

Samuel C. Klopstock, 47, of Ross, former star hurdler for the Stanford track team, yesterday won his fight for a new trial on a drunken driving conviction.

Klopstock, salesman who lives at 66 Winship Avenue, Ross, was convicted in April of driving while intoxicated in San Anselmo on March 15. During the trial, Asst. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales argued that Klopstock had failed to call his wife as a witness.

Klopstock's attorney, William O. Weissich, immediately pounced on that point, arguing that the prosecution had committed prejudicial misconduct. Prosecutor Bales replied that the defense had invited the comment by mentioning the wife's absence in the first place.

Yesterday, Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court decided that Klopstock is entitled to a new trial on grounds of prejudicial misconduct on the part of the prosecution. He set 1:30 p.m. tomorrow as the time to agree on a new trial date.

Little League Coach Injured

Three stitches had to be taken just above the left ear of a San Rafael Little League coach after he was hit by a line drive foul ball during a game last night.

John W. Hayes, 40, of 31 Eucalyptus Lane, was hit while helping coach at San Quentin School field. A medical technician from San Quentin Hospital administered first aid and stitched up the wound.

Hayes was later treated at Marin General Hospital.

Lawmen Meeting In Corte Madera

Approximately 70 chiefs of police and sheriffs from the Bay Area and coastal counties of Northern California registered this morning for an all-day meeting at the Edgewater Inn in Corte Madera.

Corte Madera Police Chief Frank Nelson is official host to the meeting. Arthur H. Brandow, Corte Madera town manager, made the official welcoming address.

The meeting was called by Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk so that officials may learn of new legislation affecting law enforcement.

OBITUARIES

William F. C. Lane Succumbs

William Frederick Charles Lane, 82, Marin County resident of more than 35 years and retired Palace Hotel dining room superintendent in San Francisco, died last evening after long illness at his residence in San Rafael.

Lane and his wife, Cecil B., resided at 2036 Fifth Avenue. He also leaves a daughter, Cecil S. Lane of Ontario, San Bernardino County, and two grandchildren.

A native of London, Lane lived in California for 50 years. He was head waiter at the Hotel Rafael for four years in the early 1920s before it burned down. He later worked for more than 30 years as dining room superintendent at the Palace Hotel, San Francisco.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 11 a.m. in the Harry M. Williams Chapel, San Rafael. Inurnment will be in Mount Tamalpais Crematory, San Rafael.

HOBART HANDY

Private funeral services will be held Saturday for Hobart Handy, 73, a retired Mill Valley accountant, who died Tuesday at a Napa Hospital after a two-year illness.

Handy had worked 40 years as an accountant for the Palace Hotel in San Francisco, now the Sheraton-Palace Hotel. He resided at 15 Oxford Avenue until about 14 months ago when he moved to a rest home.

Handy had no known living relative, his wife, Georgie, died in 1958.

He was a native of Washington, D. C. and lived in San Francisco before coming to Mill Valley in 1939.

Friends may call at the Russell and Gooch Mortuary in Mill Valley until 9 p.m. tomorrow.

Four Ex-Cagers Indicted In Point-Shaving Scandal

NEW YORK (AP) — Four former college basketball players were arrested on charges of conspiracy and bribery in the latest development of the spreading basketball scandals, it was announced today.

The four, previously named as co-conspirators, in connection with the indictments of Aaron Wagman and Joseph Hacken, are Dave Budin, former Brooklyn College captain, Jerry Vogel and Dan Quindazzi, former Alabama players, and You Brown of North Carolina.

The announcements were made by Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan, who broke open the latest basketball fixing scandals last March 17. Wagman, 28, a convicted football fixer from New York, was indicted last April 27 on 37 counts of bribery and attempts to bribe college basketball players.

Hacken, 49, New York, was indicted May 24 on 17 counts of bribery and attempted bribery.

Twenty-nine players from 17 colleges from coast to coast have been involved in the current disclosures.

Budin, who played for Brooklyn College from 1956 through 1959, had been a physical education teacher in a Brooklyn junior high school until last fall. He left after he was named in connection with an attempted fix of a football game between the University of Michigan and the University of Oregon. He is unemployed now.

Vogel, 24, is from New York. Quindazzi, 24, is from Yonkers, and Brown, 22, is from Jersey City, N. J.

Hogan said that in indictments handed down today by the New York County Grand jury, Jack Rose, captain of the University of Connecticutt team was charged with receiving the $1,000 to shave points in the game with the University of Niagara, Jan. 16, 1960. Connecticut was supposed to lose by seven or more points and actually lost 112-79.

Hogan also said that Raymond Stanley, 23, a North Carolina player was offered $1,000 by Brown to shave points in a game but that Stanley rejected the offer. Stanley, of Chapel Hill, N. C., failed to report the bribe offer however, said Hogan.

Giant Pitchers Tossing Up Too Many Costly Home Runs Of Late

(Ed Randol is pitching in The Bullpen while John Connolly is on vacation)

CONNOLLY

"Get outta here, you bums! You're nothing but a bunch of home run ball pitchers. Scram, you jerks!"

Fable has it that these unkind words were hurled by one of the nuttier fruit cakes present at a courtesy visit of the San Francisco Giant pitching staff to one of the Bay Area insane asylums.

After the medic in charge had hustled the heckler back to his private suite, he returned to apologize to the embarassed Giant hurlers who were shifting from one foot to the other like a schoolboy waiting for a hall pass.

"I'm terribly sorry, gentlemen," said the doctor. "That inmate's only interest in life is the baseball broadcasts. We thought if he met some players it might do him some good. Come to think of it, maybe it DID help him. Do you know, that's the first sensible remark he has made since he came here!"

SO MAYBE the guy wasn't so crazy after all, because the "gopher ball" has really been costing the Giants in recent games.

True, the Giants have 60 home runs to their opponents' 53 to date, but the other clubs seem to be getting them with men on base or at crucial spots. So many of the Giant blows have been solo shots, or wasted on a game that is already lost.

From opening day against Pittsburgh when Bill Virdon put relief hurler Mike McCormick's first pitch out of the park for a three-run game winner, the Giants have been snake bit. The most recent backbreaker was the ninth inning, game winning shot by ex-Giant Daryl Spencer in the L. A. Coliseum last week. The unkindest cut of all.

IN OTHER games, early homers have put the rival team so far in front that strategy goes out the window and every man is at the plate swinging for the equalizer. And when you start pressing you become an easy out for the smart pitcher.

In the clubhouse after the game, the standard alibi is "My curve ball hung on me," or "He hit a bad pitch." It would be refreshing to hear some pitcher say, some day, "I gave him my best pitch but the son-of-a-gun gave it a ride, didn't he?"

Over in the winning clubhouse the slugger who pasted the game winning home run is apt to say "No, it was a pretty good pitch but I timed it just right and got all of the wood on it. I was just trying to meet the ball, and there she went!"

I GUESS it all depends on where you sit. When Mays or Cepeda ride one out of the park it makes you feel good all over. "Boy, didn't he get ahold of THAT one! Wow!"

But when Virdon or Spencer gets lucky and puts it out of sight there's only one cure for that queasy feeling in the pit of your stomach. Just shake your head and say "The lucky stiff looked like a contortionist swinging at that bad pitch and the wind carried it out."

But don't look at the flagpole. The flag may be limp and the air as dead as the old home team.

San Rafael Unveils New Team Tonight

San Rafael, which hasn't fielded a semi-professional baseball team for several seasons, makes a comeback tonight with the unveiling of a young spirited team called the Merchants.

Managed by Al Endriss, coach at Redwood High School, the Merchants are composed of the outstanding players in the Marin Athletic League which closed its season recently.

Tonight's opener for the Merchants at Albert Park will be against the San Francisco Longshoremen, reportedly a hard-hitting squad of seasoned players. Batterup time is 8 o'clock.

Endriss last night, after sending the Merchants through their final practice session, decided to divide pitching chores tonight between three prep stars. Nino Geminiani, ace of Drake High's staff, will hurl the first three frames. Then big Ron Grayson from Novato High will take over for the middle innings and Jack Sovereign, the Marin League's winningest pitcher and strikeout king, will go the final three frames.

The Merchants' batting order reads like an All-League lineup. Tam's fleet Ed "Chip" Collins will lead off and play center field. Redwood's Steve Joses will bat second and play right, followed by Jerry Ard of Drake at shortstop, Russ Adams of Tam in the cleanup position and playing first base, Lu Haas of Novato catching, Rich Curry of San Rafael on second, Norm Kreuter of Tam at third and Tom Mark of San Rafael in left field.

The Longshoremen's lineup combines a mixture of former professional and high school players. Their starting lineup will be Lewis Cotton 2b, Miles McEffe ss, James Warren lf, Will Lensey 3b, James Hill cf, Eugene Howard 1b, Matt Kuellumrose c, Billy Beamon rf and Lester Maddox, p.

Stu Continues To Frustrate N.L. Batsmen

Some say ace reliever Stu Miller of the San Francisco Giants has three speeds — slow, slower and slowest..

And it's almost true that batters sometimes can read the lettering on the baseball as it sails past them. But they also know Stu can throw the fast ball.

He blanked the Philadelphia Phillies for three innings yesterday and thereby notched his fifth victory of 1961 without a defeat. Orlando Cepeda's 11th inning single drove in the run that won 4-3.

The series finale today matched Sam Jones for San Francisco and John Buzhardt for the Phils.

"He throws a real good fast ball," commented catcher Ed Bailey when asked about Miller's speed. "And he can take something off the fast ball when he wants to."

Stu, 33, won the National League earned-run-average with a nifty 2.47 in 1958.

BEST RECORD

Still this is his best year in the won-loss column, a fact he attributes to "a lot of good luck."

Miller has played 16 times in relief this year and hasn't given up a run in his last 11⅓ frames.

Yesterday, Jim Duffalo relieved starter Jack Sanford in the sixth and hurled three innings of shutout ball before Miller took over in the ninth.

The Giants had only two hits in seven innings off Art Mahaffey. Then Matty Alou led off the eighth with a pinch double. After Felipe Alou fouled out, pinch hitter Harvey Kuenn blasted another double and Willie Mays came through with a third two-bagger to send the game into extra innings.

Then in the 11th with reliever Chris Short pitching, Kuenn drew a walk to lead off. Joe Amalfitano sacrificed and Mays was walked intentionally. Cepeda, who hadn't hit safely all day, picked on a 2 and 2 offering from Short and slapped a liner to center, scoring Kuenn with the winning run.

Synchronized Swimmers Enter Hall Of Fame

CULVER CITY (UPI) — The Helms Hall Synchronized Swimming Hall of Fame today named Joan Pawson Nelson and June Taylor Gregory as the first competitors to gain entry.

Joan Pawson Nelson has been a member of six national championship teams and represents the Athens Club of Oakland.

June Taylor Gregory, originally from Canada, represented the Kia Ora Club in winning the nation's solo indoor title in 1950, 1951 and 1952.

MAYS NAILED AT THIRD

Willie Mays of the Giants, who hit a double in the eighth inning of yesterday's game, was thrown out at third as he tried to stretch it into a triple. Making the putout is Philadelphia's Bobby Malkmus. However, Willie's hit was good for scoring Harvey Kuenn. The Giants went on to win it in the 11th inning, 4-3. (AP Wirephoto)

Tiger-Tribe Showdown In A.L. Tonight

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cleveland Indians, sweeping into the American League lead on a nine-game streak against the likes of Minnesota, Los Angeles and Washington, carry a half-game edge into Detroit tonight for a twi-night doubleheader that opens a four-game series with the second place Tigers.

The Injuns padded their lead beyond a percentage point margin with an 11-0 romp at Washington last night as unbeaten right-hander Jim "Mudcat" Grant won his seventh with a six-hitter.

The Tigers, idle yesterday, confront the Tribe behind left-handers Don Mossi (6-0) and right-hander Frank Lary (8-3). Cleveland goes with right-handers Jim Perry (3-4) and Wynn Hawkins (5-2).

In the other A.L. games Wednesday: New York defeated Minnesota 5-1 on a two-hitter by Ralph Terry that plunked the Twins into the cellar with their 13th straight loss, the Los Angeles Angels beat Baltimore 4-0 behind Ted Bowsfield's five-hit pitching and Boston defeated Kansas City 6-2.

KIRKLAND HOMERS

Willie Kirkland and Woodie Held hammered solo home runs in an 11-hit attack for the Indians who scored twice in the first off Pete Burnside (1-4). Grant walked but one and struck out six.

Both Minnesota hits off Terry (3-0) came in the first inning, when Billy Martin tripled and scored on a double by Lennie Green. The Yankees then exploded for all five runs in the third against Pete Ramos (3-7), tagging the right-hander with his fifth straight loss on a three-run homer by Roger Maris and a two-run homer by Yogi Berra. It was No. 17 for Maris, tops in the majors, as the Yanks set an A.L. record with 31 home runs in 16 consecutive games.

Bowsfield (2-1) walked three, struck out three and allowed only one hit over the last seven innings. Three runs in the first inning, capped by Ken Aspromonte's two-run double, beat Billy Hoeft (1-3) and handed the Orioles their sixth defeat in eight games. Steve Bilko homered for the Angels, who took the series 3-1.

Koufax Scores Eighth Win As Dodgers Take N.L. Lead

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Los Angeles Dodgers, shrugging off slumps, are back on top in the National League race again, thanks to a handy guy named Sandy Koufax, who has put away four of their last eight victories.

After slipping to second with two straight setbacks by San Francisco and Pittsburgh, the Dodgers have bounced back and won two in a row, regaining a half-game lead with a 7-3 victory over the Pirates Wednesday night as Koufax became the first pitcher to win eight in the NL this season.

Milwaukee helped the Dodgers climb back on top by beating Cincinnati 3-1, and third place San Francisco moved within 1½ games of first place with a 4-3, 11-inning victory over Philadelphia. St. Louis defeated the Chicago Cubs 8-6.

The Dodgers came from behind with four runs in the second inning, beating Earl Francis in his first major league start on a two-run homer by John Roseboro and a clinching two-run double by Willie Davis. They added three unearned runs in the fifth, making it easy for Koufax (8-2). Homers by Roberto Clemente, in the first inning, and Don Hoak, with a man on in the ninth, scored the Bucs' runs.

The Braves beat the Reds behind the four-hit pitching of righthander Don Nottebart, 3-3. The Reds scored in the second on a walk, Gene Freese' single and a passed ball, but the Braves then scored three in the third, two on Ed Mathews' double, against rookie Ken Hunt (5-3).

Stan Musial's pair of two-run homers giving him six for the season, built the Cards' winning cushion in the third and seventh innings. Larry Jackson (2-5) was the winner, but needed relief. Maury McDermott finally saved it, coming on when Ernie Banks hit a two-run homer off reliever Al Cicotte in the ninth. Bob Anderson (2-5) was the loser.

YANK SLUGGERS SMASH HOMER MARK

Pitcher Ralph Terry is flanked by Yogi Berra (left) and Roger Maris, whose red hot bats helped Yanks to a 5-1 win over Minnesota at New York yesterday. Unbeaten Terry won his third of the year with a two-hitter. Berra's two-run homer, his ninth of the season, followed a three-run blast by Maris to account for all the team's runs. Round-trippers by the pair set an American League record of 31 homers by one team in 16 consecutive games. (AP Wirephoto)

Archie Wants Ingo, Then A Shot At Title

MONTICELLO, N. Y. (AP)—If Archie Moore gets by Giulio Rinaldi Saturday night, as he is favored to, the old gent may take off for Sweden this fall for a joust with Ingemar Johansson.

"That would go real big over there," said Jack Doc Kearns, who handles Archie's bookings. "I've discussed the fight with Eddie Ahlquist (Johansson's adviser) and he thinks it would be great.

"First of all it would make a lot of money for everyone," added Doc, who says he's only slightly older than his meal-ticket. "Then if Archie wins it, and I'm confident he can, he'll be right in line for another shot at the heavyweight title.

"Archie still thinks he can beat Floyd Patterson and he'd like to get that heavyweight title before he quits in maybe six or seven years."

There was a merry twinkle in Doc's blue eyes as he blithely discussed Archie's future as if the champ was 21 instead of a magnificent antique, aged 44 or 47.

Moore definitely is interested in taking on Johansson and another trip to Europe wouldn't displease him a bit.

AN IMAGINATION

"One thing I've got to say about Doc—he's got a tremendous imagination," said Archie. "That's what I like about him. He can think of some mighty interesting propositions."

A Johansson-Moore fight could elbow Sonny Liston, top-ranking heavy contender, out of the picture. There's been plenty of dickering for the Liston-Johansson fight, but it may not occur this year because Moore thinks he can lick Johansson and Ingo feels the same way about Archie. And both think it could be easy—and easy money.

BASEBALL BONUS BATTLE

Report $200,000 Bid For Cal Prep Player

LONG BEACH (UPI)—An 18-year-old shortstop, who never hit lower than .440 in high school, today was the prize in a polite tug-of-war between major league clubs, but at least one called a $200,000 price tag "ridiculous."

Bob Bailey, 6-foot-1, 180-pounder from Wilson High School of Long Beach, worked out last night in a Pittsburgh uniform before the Pirates played the Dodgers at the Coliseum. The Pirates and Milwaukee Braves were reported most interested in Bailey, who can't sign with anyone before he graduates June 15.

Joe L. Brown, general manager of the Pirates, said "of course we are interested in Bailey." But he said there has been no agreement on terms thus far.

As for the $200,000 bonus bidding battle reported yesterday by Tom Meehan, sports writer of the Fresno Bee, Brown denied it emphatically.

"The Pirates have never bid nor will ever bid that much," he said.

One of the biggest offers on record is $120,000 for pitcher Billy Joe Davidson from the Cleveland Indians. Davidson, like some other bonus babies, is no longer in the game.

One of the first reported $100,000 bonus offers was from the Pirates—to Paul Pettit. Pettit never made it as a big league pitcher, although he was a competent Triple-A player for several years.

Paul (Buck) Bailey, father of the Long Beach star, laughed when he heard of the $200,000 figure. "I'm quite flattered," he said. "I don't know who Bobby is going to sign with. I think someone was just shooting the breeze on that bonus figure."

Bailey himself was an infielder with Sacramento of the Pacific Coast League before World War II.

Baseball sources said here in addition to the Pirates and Braves, the new Houston National League club and Kansas City are among others interested in Bailey, who hit .500 as a sophomore in high school and batted around .450 the next two seasons.

Fresco Thompson, vice president in charge of the Dodger farm system, said his club did take a look at the youth.

"We did have some interest but when the price went into orbit, we lost interest."

Carry Back Improves, May Race On Aug. 2

NEW YORK (AP) — Ailing Carry Back is coming along fine and probably will start in the Choice Stakes at Monmouth Park on Aug. 2 trainer Jack Price said today.

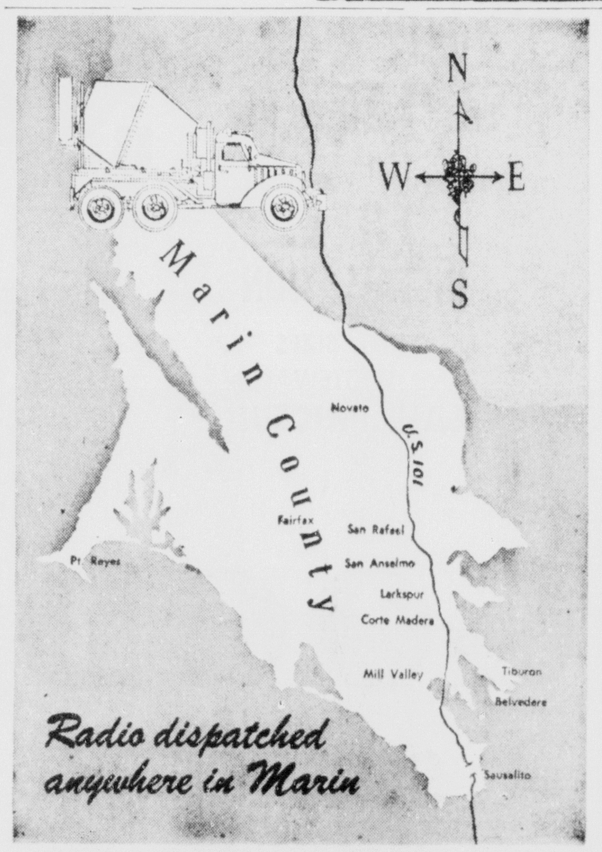

"I think he will be perfectly all right," said Price. "I doubt if we will be able to have him well in time for the Dwyer Stakes here on July 15, though. He'll need more rest."

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS,
I-J Fish and Game Writer

Modus Operandi Of Angling For Salmon On The Klamath River

STEVENS

Edward Dekos of Niles writes to ask about Klamath River fishing: "What's the best time to go for salmon fishing? What lures or material to take with you, and what are the accommodations up there? Is it true that it is too crowded to fish during the runs of salmon?"

Maybe some of my other readers wish the same information, so here's the answer: The Klamath (mouth) is world renowned as a salmon mecca for sport fishing. It is true that during the season the ordinarily lazy town of Klamath becomes a busy miniature metropolis. Hundreds of rowboats may be seen any day trolling back and forth in the lagoon above the bridge. Dozens of skiffs tied together in the "line" awaiting incoming schools of salmon. Still other dozens will be seen casting from shore near the mouth of the river.

But, in spite of the "thundering horde" I have never known a time when accommodations of some sort couldn't be found. Naturally, the old timers — the regulars — make housing reservations well in advance of the date they will arrive. I would suggest to Mr. Dekos and the rest that a letter be sent to Larry Meyers, Klamath, California, or to the Requa Inn, for example, requesting reservations.

THE "MATERIAL" needed depends upon the type you own. If very light tackle, line, leader and sinker in balance and the same balance with the heavier tackle. Personally I have always fished from a skiff with either a guide at the oars or an outboard motor. Hence I have always used very light tackle, consisting of an eight-foot light bamboo rod, a level winding reel with 15-pound test monofiliament line; a seven-foot leader with a three-way swivel. On one ring of the swivel I attach my leader, on the second ring my sinker (½ or ¾ ounce), and on the third ring my line.

HOWEVER, just about any tackle you own will answer. (Heavier line and leader with heavier rod, etc.) Or, if you wish to try shore casting, you need quite heavy tackle, about 36-pound test line, six or eight-ounce sinker and a much shorter leader. Casting from shore is a case of getting your fish in as quickly as possible. At that, you may have to cross 10 or 12 fellow anglers to keep from snarling your gear with theirs. You stoop to get under rods, or step over them, always keeping your own rod well up to prevent getting slack in your line. Everybody does it, so the crowd is quite tolerant.

If you would fish on "the line," you anchor your skiff, tie up to the neighboring boat and work fast at reeling in whenever a fish grabs the lure.

The most popular lure probably is a Bear Valley spinner No. 4 or No. 5.

IF YOU are trolling, the approved modus operandi, when you hang a fish, is to row to shore, step out of the boat and play your fish to a standstill. That keeps you out of the way of the other trollers and at the same time gives you the maximum thrill.

Regarding the best time to fish the Klamath, it is, of course, when the fish start running. We usually expect that to happen in the late summer. Personally, I have favored the latter part of July or the first of August for my trips to the Klamath.

Coast Baseballers To Play In Hawaii

HONLULU (UPI) — Oregon State, Stanford and the University of Southern California will be among the teams to meet Keio University of Japan in an exhibition series here beginning June 17.

Keio will also play the University of Hawaii and teams of the Hawaii League during the 12-game series.

The games will be played June 17-July 4 while the Hawaii Islanders of the Pacific Coast League are on the road.

PRUDENCE BAXTER, TOO

Formula Jr. Flash In Laguna Races

Pat Pigott of Bellingham, Wash., owner and driver of one of the world's fastest Formula Jr. cars, a Lotus Mark XX, is the latest entry in the Laguna Seca Invitational Sports Car Races Saturday and Sunday.

The unbeaten Evergreen Stater joins an impressive cast for the junior event that already includes Ken Miles, last year's feature race winner at Laguna, and Jack MacAfee, veteran Los Angeles pilot.

Pigott, who last year campaigned successfully at Nassau and Sebring, has appeared in two northern California meets this season, easily taking over-all honors in both.

The Lotus Mark XX is the latest model from the English factory.

Along with Pigott's entry came three applications for the special Ladies Race planned for the two-day meeting.

Prudence Baxter, Barbara Windhorst and Janet Gilmore were the powder puff wheelers acknowledging the Sports Car Racing Association invitations.

Miss Baxter, a red-haired music shop operator from Sausalito, has for years been a successful performer on the northern California circuit. She will pilot a Lotus Mark XI in the "Distaff Derby.

Forty thousand tickets will go on sale June 10 at the Laguna Seca course.

Hodges To Emcee All-Star Game Baseball Dinner

Russ Hodges, "Voice of the Giants" for 12 years, was announced today as master of ceremonies for the July 10 All-Star Game Dinner, sponsored by the San Francisco Baseball Writers Assn.

The dinner will be held in the Garden Court of the Sheraton-Palace Hotel. Tickets are $15 each and may be obtained by mail from Bob Stevens, Candlestick Park. Checks should be made out to the All-Star Baseball Game Dinner.

Hodges will emcee a program featuring leading entertainers and celebrated baseball personalities, including All-Star Game squad members. Singer Tony Martin recently accepted an invitation.

The annual All-Star Game at Candlestick Park is scheduled for July 11, the day following the dinner, which is open to both men and women.

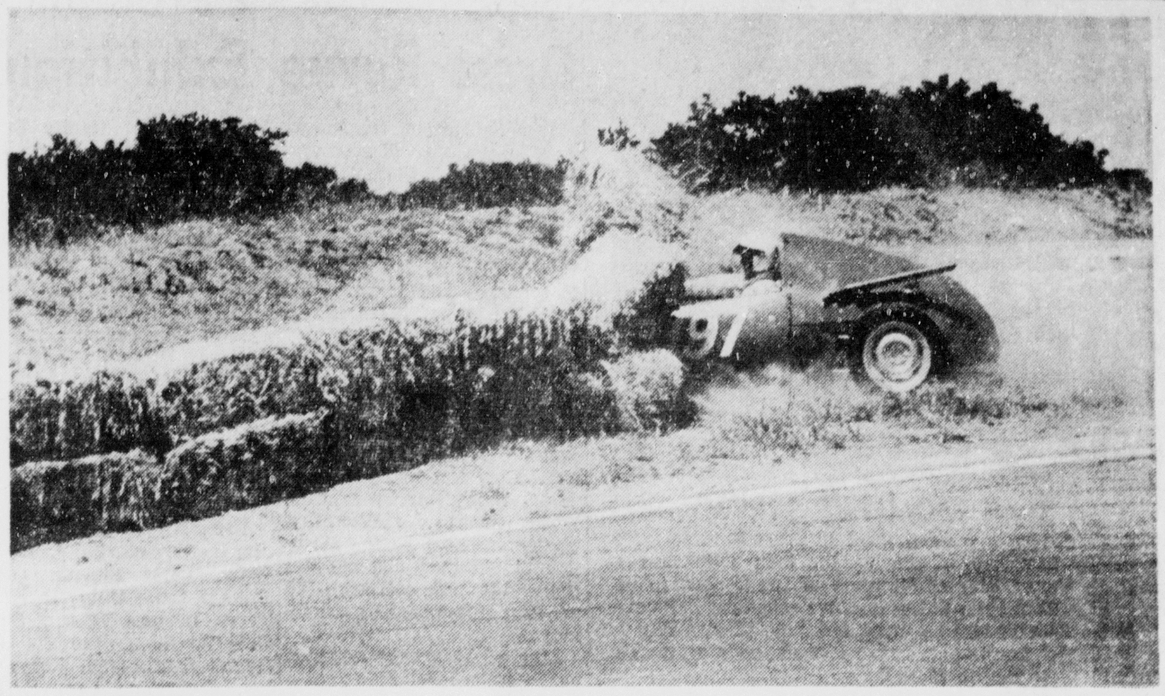

Braves Sign Prep Pitching Phenom

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—The Milwaukee Braves today announced the signing of an 18-year-old right-handed pitcher to a "very substantial bonus contract" with their Vancouver farm club in the Triple-A Pacific Coast League.

The club said Arnold Umbach Jr., a six foot, 175 pounder from Auburn, Ala., would report immediately to the Coast League team.

Umbach was described by the Braves as the most sought after player in the south. In a tournament last year at Johnstown, Pa., he struck out 25 while pitching a no-hitter and was voted the outstanding player there.

He attended Baylor Prep School and is the son of the director of physical education at Baylor College.

HAY FLIES AT LAGUNA — Even the little cars can throw the hay bales around when the speedsters get off the track at Monterey where the Laguna Seca Invitational is scheduled this weekend. This action at the Fort Ord raceway is typical of the thrilling maneuvers spectators can expect when the top drivers get going at the Invitational, the first Pacific Coast championship point race of the year.

Former Playboy Duke Of Kent Weds In Glittering Ceremony

By RHODA ACKERSON

YORK, England (UPI)—Prince Edward, the Duke of Kent, and Katharine Worsley, a descendant of Oliver Cromwell, were married today in historic York Minster Cathedral in a glittering ceremony attended by most of Europe's royalty.

Today's ceremony was performed by Dr. Arthur Michael Ramsey, who becomes the Archbishop of Canterbury at the end of this month.

An estimated 25 million persons in Britain and throughout Europe saw the wedding ceremony on their television sets.

A galaxy of Europe's royalty, including Queen Elizabeth II, was on hand for the wedding. The queen's daughter, Princess Anne, was one of eight bridesmaids. Best man was Prince Michael, the Duke's 18-year-old brother. The Duke is a first cousin of the Queen.

PRINCE TOO

Also attending the ceremony were Elizabeth's husband, Prince Philip, who also is a cousin of the bridegroom; the Queen Mother Elizabeth; Princess Margaret and her husband, Antony Armstrong-Jones.

For his wedding day, the Duke—a career Army captain—chose the ceremonial uniform of his regiment, the Royal Scots Greys, which included a scarlet jacket, blue pants with gold stripes down the sides and a black bearskin hat.

The last royal ceremony performed in the historic cathedral was in 1328 when Edward III was married to 14-year-old Philippa of Hainault.

Miss Worsley, who is three years older than the 25-year-old Duke was 16 minutes late getting to the dress rehearsal at the cathedral yesterday. At one point, the nervous Duke cast an anxious glance outside the church moments before she arrived.

'DON'T BE LATE'

When the rehearsal was over, someone in the audience whispered to the Yorkshire lass, "don't be late tomorrow, mi'luv." The tardiness of Miss Worsley was taken by a British newspaper columnist today as a sign of her independence which led her to ask that the word "obey" be deleted from her marriage vow.

The wedding reception was held at Katharine's Hovingham Hall home near York and the honeymoon will be first at Birkhall, near Balmoral Castle, and then at Majorca island in the Mediterranean.

TEA FETES MRS. LYNCH

Mrs. Antoinette Lynch, who has served as art supervisor for the elementary schools in San Rafael for many years and is leaving to become a member of the Terra Linda High School faculty, is being honored at a tea today at the San Rafael home of the Francis Allisons.

Hostesses are members of the Art Council, to which Mr. Allison belongs, who helped coordinate the art program in the schools.

Hugo Rinaldi of the school music department is providing musical entertainment. And for a memento for Mrs. Lynch, faculty members assembled pages for an album of illustrations which exemplify art media that Mrs. Lynch has presented to her classes over the years.

'BRITTANIA' RULES THE WAVES

This suit, says its designer, Oleg Cassini, is fit for a queen and "makes a woman really look like a woman." Swimming becomes a matter of elegance when the bathing beauty wears this orlon elasticized knit in button-trimmed style. Designed for Peter Pan, the suit has built-in foundation fit and comes in navy, yellow or red with white trim.

Hospital's Auxiliary Installs

Installation of officers and directors of the newly organized Lucas Valley Hospital Auxiliary was held following the recent luncheon at Nero's Restaurant at Nave Lanes, Ignacio.

Mrs. Donald Murray, organizer and president pro tem, presented a gavel engraved with the date of the auxiliary's founding to Mrs. Ragner Thaning, who will be president for the coming term.

Other new officers installed by Mrs. John Pitcher, who will serve as parliamentarian, were Mesdames William P. Held, vice president; Rowe A. Waller, secretary; Lewis L. Baker, treasurer; Donald Murray, Sydney Frank, Earl Burns, Richard Hardin, Andrew Ferrier and C. W. Zumwalt, directors.

The auxiliary, was formed under the auspices of the San Rafael Improvement Club three months ago, has given $300 to the hospital for the purchase of equipment. Plans are being made for several more fund raising events.

A special training course, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Mullen, director of nurses at the hospital, has been started for the auxiliary members who are particularly interested in therapy and limited nursing.

Fourth Daughter For Dr., Mrs. Wellings

Dr. and Mrs. Sefton Robert Wellings of Mill Valley are parents of a fourth daughter, Mary Martha, born June 2 in San Francisco. The baby's sisters are Anne, Elizabeth and Julie.

Dr. and Mrs. Wellings with their children will soon be moving to Portland, Ore., where Dr. Wellings will have a teaching and research position in the department of pathology of the University of Oregon Medical School.

'PLAY BALL' CALLS THE COMMITTEE

Teamwork will pay off Saturday night for the committee members who have devised the strategy for the Ross-Kentfield-Greenbrae's Little League Gingham Ball to be given at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, San Rafael. The ball will begin at 9 p.m., with proceeds earmarked for the Little Leaguer's equipment fund. From left awaiting the opener are Mesdames Farr D. Danford, Robert H. Silberberg, Justin J. Handlos, Leonard J. Ravani and Marc M. Kirkbaum. (Independent-Journal photo)

St. Rita's To Install Mrs. Witts

Mrs. Robert E. Witts will be installed president of St. Rita's Women's Guild in ceremonies at 8:15 p.m. Monday at the church parish hall, Fairfax.

Other officers who will be installed with her are Mesdames Chester G. Carlisle, vice president; Leo McClain, recording secretary; Jack E. Herrero, financial secretary; Emerson Lasater, treasurer, and Joseph C. Crean, auditor. Members of the board for the year are Mesdames Paul Fraire, Keith Yetter, Thomas Little, Daniel Miller and Lawrence J. McCormick.

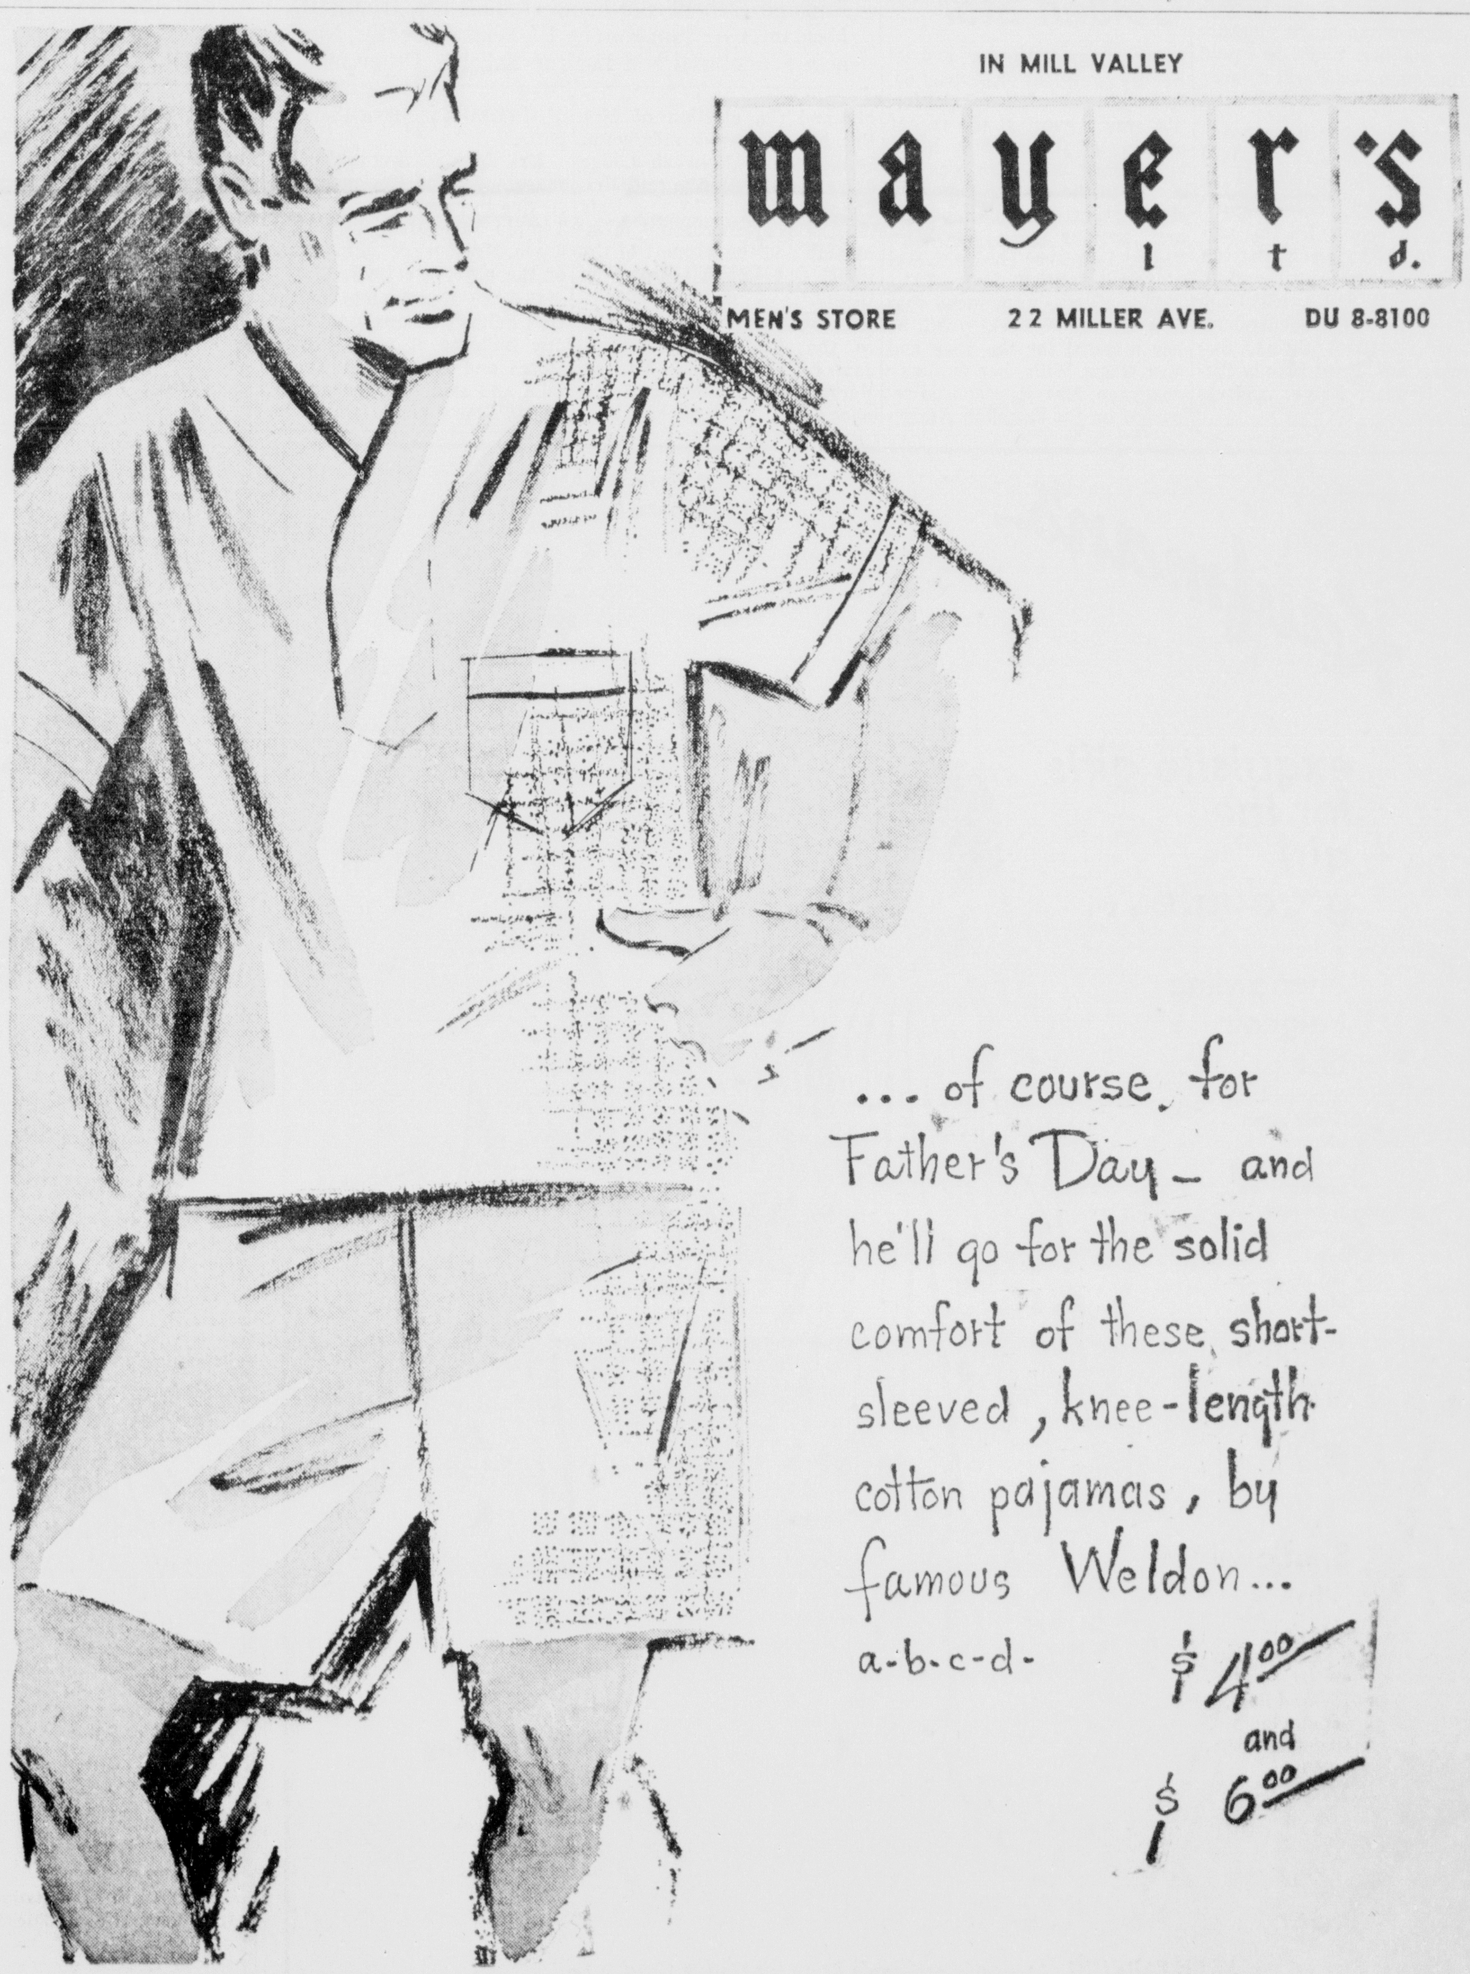

Mrs. Lawrence J. McCormick is retiring president, having served two years.

Mrs. Witt has announced her committee chairmen: Mesdames Arthur J. O'Leary, corresponding secretary; W. C. Sullivan, NCCW; Harold Skaggs, hospitality; Richard Bettencourt, spiritual; Dino Baccei, room mothers; Joseph L. DePatta, motion picture; Robert L. Spingett, health; Aldo M. Del Zotto, catechism; M. O. Vanni, publicity; E. L. Stiller, telephone; Orville Kemp, house; Harold Keelen Jr., yard mother; Peter Forni, library; Alfred Rustice, parliamentarian and T. F. Parnow, altar boys.

Marjorie Jones To Become Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones of Mill Valley announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Marjorie Ann Jones, to John Jay Crawford, son of Mrs. K. W. Hall of Houston, Tex. and Lindsay Crawford of Strawberry.

The young couple will be married July 15 at 1 p.m. in the Mill Valley Community Church.

Papal Blessing Bestowed On Codoni-Coffrini Nuptials

At high noon on Saturday Rosemarie Coffrini and David Codoni exchanged nuptial vows at a mass at St. Raphael's Church. The Rev. John Dwyer of Gilroy, who officiated at the mass, also bestowed on the young couple a special blessing from Jope John XXXIII. Assisting at the mass were Monsignor William Burke of Stockton, Monsignor Clement McKenna of St. Vincent's School for Boys and the Rev. George A. O'Meara of St. Raphael's Church.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guiseppe Coffrini of San Anselmo, wore a white full skirted lace gown with a train of white satin. Her maid of honor, Lee Bemiss, and bridesmaids Georgelle Wishard and Shirley Digesti, and junior bridesmaids, Maryann Schwarz and Donna Denning, nieces of the bride, wore green taffeta and chiffon gowns.

The bridegroom had as his best man his only brother, Fred Codoni. Ushers were his cousin, Robert Leary and Larry Callon, John Burns and the bride's brother, Joseph Coffrini Jr., Junior ushers were Leonard Mauro and Louis Kreuzer Jr.

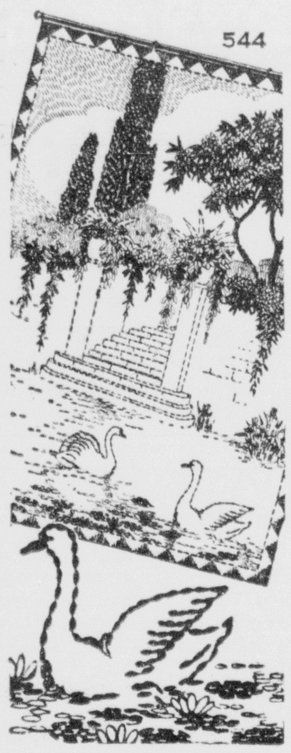

At the reception at Star Hall in San Anselmo following the wedding a buffet dinner was served.

The newlyweds went to Southern California on the honeymoon and will return to San Rafael to live.

The bride, who is a graduate of Marin Catholic High School, has three sisters, Mrs. Guido Schwarz, Mrs. Cyril Denning and Mrs. Louis Kreuzer.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Codoni of San Rafael, is a graduate of Marin Catholic High School and College of Marin. He is associated with his father in business in San Rafael. He is the grandson of Mrs. Joseph Codoni of San Rafael.

District Chief Visitor At Golden Star

Mrs. Chester Hunter, district deputy president of District 61, Rebekah Assembly of California, was a guest at the recent meeting of Golden Star Rebekah Lodge 112. She was escorted to the seat of honor by Mrs. Herbert Harmon, conductor. Another guest was Mrs. Foster Lawrence, noble grand of Tamal Rebekah Lodge 393.

Mrs. Hunter announced that Mrs. George M. Beckley will be her marshal for the year and Mrs. Grant Wills, her publicity chairman. Mrs. Hunter also reported on the Rebekah Assembly and the election of Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman, member of Santa Monica Rebekah Lodge 377 as president. She said Mrs. Chapman has as her projects for the year increasing membership and the support of the IOOF Old People's Home in Gilroy.

Delegates from Golden Star to the Assembly, Mesdames James Williams, John Stirling, Harry E. Wall and Ralph Stephenson, all past noble grands of Golden Star, gave their reports.

Mrs. John Stirling told of arrangements for the memorial service to be held at the IOOF Temple, San Rafael, June 18 at 8 p.m. Members of all branches of the order are invited.

Chester Hunter told of the Odd Fellows occupational therapy building at the Veterans Home and Hospital in Yountville and said that the annual Odd Fellows picnic would be held at Yountville June 25.

Following the meeting a silent auction was held under the chairmanship of Mrs. Arthur Meyer. Mrs. Leo Berger headed the refreshment committee.

SLEEPY HOLLOW SUNDAY IN THE SUN

Dancing, swimming, a barbecue and a promenade of summer fashions around the pool are planned for the day of "frolic and fun" to be given Sunday at 1 p.m. by the Singleton Chapter of the City of Hope. Models seen as they practice at the Rudolph Eichenbaum home grounds are, from left, Mesdames William Morrisy III, William Deeths, Norman Sanguinetti and Luciano Sabella. Other models will be Mesdames Victor Burner Jr., William Donohoe, Richard Evans, John Hackney Jr. and Miss Tamara Evans. Mesdames Clemence Zimmerman, Gussie Kimble and Dan Goldenbar are chairmen. Reservations are being taken by Mrs. L. G. Gerson of San Anselmo for this party to aid the City of Hope medical center in Duarte. (Independent-Journal photo)

YOUR HOUSEHOLD

Bedding Care Can Save Replacement

Keeping your house may not seem to require your study of technical detail for jobs that take largely time and effort rather than acquired know-how.

One example might the fairly simple task of care of bedding. But are you sure that you are taking the best care of pillows, mattresses and covers to give your family more restful nights and less strain on the budget replacing the worn-outs?

Inner spring matresses ought to be turned about every two weeks, end for end the first time and then side to side the next to keep the lumps away. Solid upholstered mattresses wear better if they are turned every week. Inner spring mattresses should not be beaten with a rug beater or folded or rolled when they are moved because this treatment tends to crease or lump them which makes for discomfort.

Occasionally a good airing is in order. You can do this by moving the mattress near an open window where the sun can shine on it. The sun's rays help to keep the mattress from packing down and also act as germ killers, provided the sunshine comes directly in and not through a pane of glass. Mattresses should be cleaned once a month with a vacuum attachment or soft brush.

FLUFF PILLOWS

Pillows stay their best if they are fluffed each day and are aired for a time before a clean slip goes on them. Pillows are better if they are washed by a reliable laundry unless you become an expert at home sudsing. But once the feathers have begun deterioration not even all the king's laundresses can help. Replacement is your only recourse.

You think you know how to make a bed? Sure, everyone does, but check yourself again to avoid bad habits acquired in haste.

First put on the mattress pad. Use a clean one often. Spread the bottom sheet out with its center fold running down the center of the mattress. If the sheet is too short to allow equal tucking, leave more at the head to tuck than at the foot. Tuck the sheet in top and bottom. Make mitered corners by starting at the foot. Grasp sides of the sheet two feet from corner and lift straight up to form triangle. Holding that up with one hand, tuck the overhang firmly under matress. Then let go and tuck under remainder. This holds corners securely. Miter both foot corners and then pull sheet taut and miter head corners.

FOOT ROOM

Spread top sheet and tuck well at foot. Making a three inch fold across the bottom gives sleeper plenty of foot room. Add blankets, mitering foot corners. If blanket is short put it on the bottom and then secure it with well-tucked large blanket on top. Keep a spare blanket folded like an accordion for quick use. Turn back part of top sheet over blankets at head of bed and tuck sides. Add spread. Fluff pillows and draw over them neatly and tuck at the head.

If this procedure seems too much trouble, remember the time it can save throughout the week when you hurry through the house to spread up the beds. Smoothing out bedding daily is quick if well-tucked corners were made to begin the week.

Job Hunters, Take Look At Yourself

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Young people who seek jobs after graduation from high school may be in for a shock. They may have to change to impress a prospective employer.

One father says that even a summer job is too much for his darling daughter. She has threatened to quit the job before it has begun if he doesn't drive her to work because she doesn't like buses. A pampered type should be left in the nest rather than be allowed to become a bother to a boss.

Many eager graduates are foiled in their quest for work, however, because of their appearance when meeting an employer-to-be for the first time.

HOW TO DRESS

A simple tailored dress or suit is always correct attire. Flouncy, ruffled dresses are in poor taste. Decolletage styles or sweater ensembles may make an interviewer wary. He may reason that this sort of dress would distract male employees.

Beige, navy blue, and summer pastels are more acceptable colors than white or the new "hot" colors best left in the wardrobe until after you have clinched the job.

BE CONSERVATIVE

Dark shoes are preferred footgear for job seekers. Whether pointed or rounded toe the heel should be medium high. Avoid the two-and-a-half-inch dress heel, a favorite of party-going teen agers, also toeless shoes or sandal. Wear stockings no matter how tan your legs are.

A small handbag is best on this occasion to avoid the temptation of loading it. Put in only the things that are absolutely necessary. If a potential employer glimpses a loaded handbag, he may figure that he would have a clutterer on his hands.

Should you wear jewelry? If jewelry is suitable to your clothes and type, it may enhance your costume. But a rhinestone necklace has no place in daywear.

A little girl looks ridiculous in large, chunky dramatic pieces of jewelry. Simple tailored gold jewelry, a strand or two of pearls or conservative string of beads flattering to your costume is ideal.

BEST FACE FORWARD

Makeup should look natural no matter how you achieve your flattering look. Your foundation cream should blend into your skin, lipstick should be blotted carefully.

Use a light shade of nail polish, preferably no darker than a watermelon pink if you use a polish at all.

Hair can sell you short. Men are more hair conscious than you would imagine. Be sure your tresses are shampooed clean before you set it. Long stringy hair could indicate that you are carless just as sausage-curled hair may give the impression that you are a little too fussy.

Answer the interviewer's questions with deliberation. Be brief and don't digress from what is asked.

Stone-Set-In-Stone Mural Brings Culture To Garden

AP Newsfeatures

You need not give up indoor culture to live al fresco in summer.

The revival of the stone-set-in-stone mural technique, popular during the Italian Renaissance permits you to enjoy pictures and murals on terrace, patio or porch.

When colder weather moves in, your "art gallery" can be transferred to the living room.

"The advantage of stone art outdoors is that it is weather proof. Let the sun beat down, winds howl and hurricanes blow, the stone pictures will maintain their beauty," says the reviver of the art, architect Richard Blow.

He was born in Illinois of Virginia parents, attended Princeton University, but has made his second home in Florence, Italy, since World War II. Blow became interested in the art when he was in England during the war.

"I saw much that had been exported from Italy returned because it was not good," he says. "I had the feeling the ancient art, the glory of Medici Chapel and Pantheon, could be revived to its former beauty."

Since Florentines have been practicing the art for five centuries it wasn't difficult to assemble a work crew. But he needed new ideas if the art was to make a comeback.

The smallest piece on view in his collection shown at the Architectural League in New York is a head of a Minoan Crete, 1½ inches by one-half inch. The largest piece is 6 by 4 feet. He also has executed lamp bases and fireplaces.

The process is delicate, he points out.

"Once the stone is thin, you can tell whether it can be used and in what way. The grain of the stone becomes an integral part of the design. Once in a while we fake. A recent onyx piece was in the form of a beautiful torso, except it had but one bosom. We had to insert an artificial bosom," he explains.

Blow first makes an exact drawing of the picture to be produced in stone. Next he cuts the paper drawing figure or object in the layout and lays it over the stones to be used. Stones and drawing must harmonize to provide the right effect.

His stones are gathered from every corner of the globe — cadmium yellow from the Ganges, Jade from the Orient, Malachite and Lapus Lazuli from the Island of Elba, amethyst quartz and green alabaster from Mexico, spotted jasper from Spain.

Business Club Sets Health, Safety Meet

Health and safety will be highlighted on the program to be presented for the Business and Professional Women's Club of Marin County June 27, in the Chart Room of Dominic's Restaurant, San Rafael.

Ann Kosta, the club's health and safety chairman, who is in charge of the program, will introduce Mrs. Russell Dwyer, vice chairman of water safety and instructor of water safety for the Red Cross. Mrs. Dwyer will show posters of water safety and a film on oral resuscitation.

SENIOR WINS AWARD

Linda Haines, left, of Redwood High School is awarded the annual scholarship of Marin Alumnae of Delta Delt Delta. Mrs. David Brady, center, scholarship chairman, and Mrs. Stewart Burmeister, president, made the award Thursday at the alumnae's luncheon at the Ondine. Miss Haines, who will enter Stanford this fall, was born in London and grew up in Lima, Peru. At Redwood she has been Girls Athletic Assn. president and a member of the drill team, the English Club, Girls Service Club, Foreign Language Club, program committee and International Club. She is also a member of the Ross Valley Players. (Independent-Journal photo)

Nursey School Enrolling Now For Fall Term

Mrs. Spencer Greaves, membership chairman of the San Rafael Cooperative Nursery School, has announced that applications are being accepted for enrollment in the fall term. To be eligible for entrance the pre-schooler must be at least two years and nine months. Mrs. Greaves may be called for information regarding the school and its orientation program.

The fall term will begin Sept. 12 for the returning preschoolers, Sept. 13 for the alumni, and Sept. 14 for new members.

The newly elected officers for the 1961-62 school year are Mesdames Richard Redalia, president; Greaves, vice president; Guy Reem, secretary; Paul Thompson, treasurer; Fred Salcedo, assistant treasurer, and Clifford McClain, parent education.

Can You Lay Hands Quickly On Vital Family Documents?

By DOROTHEA BROOKS

If you're the family bookkeeper—and it's agreed most women are these days—it probably falls to you to keep track of family records too.

How good a job are you doing? Can you lay your hands on such things as birth certificates for each member of the family, military service records, marriage licenses and mortgages? If the tax man called tomorrow, could you come up with tax returns, and substantiating records, for the past five years? What about stock and bond certificates and a record of investments?

If the contents of your home were destroyed, would you still be able to produce these important items?

What about an accurate inventary of the contents of your home?

These questions, asked by Raymond Koontz, should start anyone thinking. In almost any household, spring cleaning is likely to turn up packets anr files of papers you've been meaning "to do something with."

If that's the situation in your home, there is no time like the present for putting the family records in order.

Mr. Koontz, whose firm manufactures bank vault and protective equipment, suggested sorting out the really important documents and records and the family valuables—these to be placed as soon as possible in a safe deposit box, secure from the dangers of destruction and loss.

If you've always thought of a safe deposit vault as the exclusive repository of coupon-clipping tycoons and wealthy old ladies with heirlooms, Mr. Koontz is quick to point out that persons of modest means can "hire a little niche in the best protected spot in town for an extremely nominal fee."

Almost all banks have safety deposit boxes available.

Your banker, Mr. Koontz said, will be glad to discuss the box you need, its cost (which depends on size, and may be tax deductible if its contents produce income) and, manner of leasing. Boxes may be leased individually or jointly. You may authorize a deputy to have access to the box.

Generally, once you contract for a safe deposit box, you will receive two keys—one to carry with you, the other to keep in a safe place at your home or give to your deputy. To gain admittance to your box, either you or your deputy must have your signature verified and present your key. Without it the bank cannot open your box. Private enclosures are provided for boxholders to examine their boxes.

The rest of a family's records could be taken care of easily in a fire protective strong box, an alphabetized cardboard letter file, a notebook or two and a heavy manila folder.

Into the strong box go a list of the contents of your safe deposit box, copies of papers such as investment records and personal property inventory, current financial information and items awaiting transfer to the safe deposit box. Some authorities recommend keeping insurance policies at home where they will be readily accessible when needed, with an accurate record going into the safe deposit box.

The letter file and notebooks should take care of day-to-day business, current bank statements, receipts, receipted bills, sales slips, income and spending records, auto maintenance records and what-have-you.

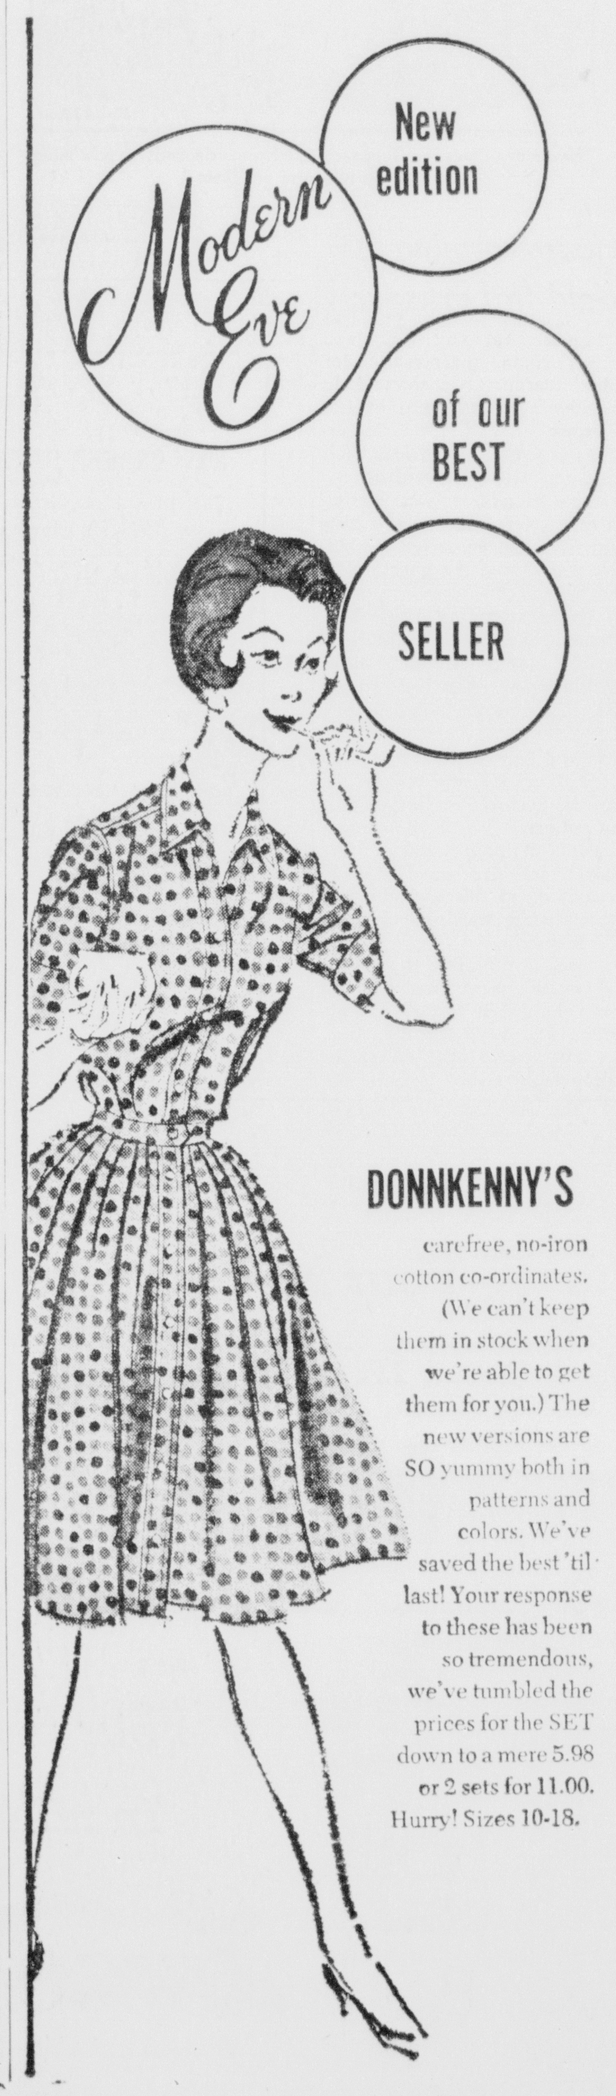

Into one manila envelope should be tossed every instruction book and every guarantee you acquire so you'll always be able to locate the one you need.

Soapy's Wife Says Basic Health Plan Is Vital To Africa

By MARTHA COLE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here's the way Nancy Williams sees America's role in the emergency of the new Africa nations:

"We should be as helpful as possible without interfering."

Mrs. Williams reached her conclusion on her own person-to-person tour of 16 African nations this spring while her husband, G. Mennen Williams, made the official tour as the Undersecretary of State for African Affairs.

"You have to be careful about interfering," she cautions. For instance, she said, American women visiting a hospital in the Congo might see all that is needed to be done and want to plunge in and do it.

And the Congolese will be wary or suspicious, she says, "if it looks as if you're going to run things.

Mrs. Williams' memories are vivid:

She remembers the people of the Congo as the "same warm-hearted type, with fat healthy babies, that we have seen in other parts of Africa."

NO MALE INFLUENCE

She remembers the patience with which the people of Kenya stood in line in the hot sun to vote in a national election.

"There were two separate lines," she says. "One for men and one for women, so that the men could not force their wives to vote as they wanted them to vote."

During the tour, Mrs. Williams struck out on her own, visiting villages, hospitals and orphanages and talking with the women. She kept her own notes.

Mrs. William is a tall, energetic blonde, a graduate social worker, a volunteer Red Cross nurse's aide and a longtime worker in the nursing service in her home state of Michigan, which her husband served as governor.

She paid particular attention to the health problem in Africa.

What the people over there need, she says, is a basic health program, the problem is so big.

The first child she saw in Uganda appeared to be burned badly. "The skin appeared blistered, peeling, scarred and full of edema so that touching him actually left a finger print," she says. "It is amazing to believe that this is caused by poor diet, particularly lack of protein."

They are fine healthy babies, she says, until they are taken off mothers' milk and put on a diet of a sort of meal and tea.

LONG FOR KNOWLEDGE

Mrs. Williams wrote of her trip in letters back home. They were published in the Lansing, Mich., State Journal.

She found Nigerian women very active, more educated than women in the other countries. "There are countless clubs and women's meetings (in Nigeria), and they are a force politically."

She found intense interest in education throughout Africa, and wrote:

"I sometimes feel ashamed that our American children do not appreciate their opportunities and I wish they could see the eagerness in these people to whom education has been denied."

The need for educating women is great, Mrs. Williams says.

"The opposition to this comes in part from their own men who are accustomed to having the women stay home to do all the work. This is quite a fantastic situation as the women are really like beasts of burden in many areas and the man supervises from the sidelines."

In Tanganyika the wife of the chief minister was so determined to get an education, "she walked three miles each day to Maryknoll sisters and begged to be taught."

The constant problem in Mogadiscio, Somalia, she wrote, was water, which was brought in by trucks. "Obviously it is never wasted, and I almost felt guilty when I took a bath."

READY FOR MORE

The Williamses bought mementoes of native craft from each country and are finding places for ivory carvings and masks in their new home in the Georgetown section of Washington.

Mrs. Williams has been dividing her time between Washington and Lansing, where daughters Nancy, 17, and Wendy, 15, are in school. Son Gery, 19, is in college.

Mrs. Williams bought five new sheath dresses of assorted colors at $11.98 each to augment her wardrobe for the African trip.

One of the first things she did when she returned was "get my clothes in order" for another trip when it came.

"So I could take off at the drop of a hat."

Mrs. Niederholzer Is New President Of Social Service

Mrs. Gus Neiderholzer has been installed president of the Social Service Auxiliary of Marin for the coming year.

Other officers who were installed with her at a brunch meeting at the Meadow Club are Mesdames John Merryman, first vice president; William Costello, second vice president; Roy Pasqualetti, treasurer; L. J. McCormick, secretary; William Trewartha, recording secretary; and John Enos, nominating chairman.

Board members who will serve this year are Mesdames C. Stanley Lawrence, motor corps; Fred Adams, social activities; Cletus Fitzharris, publicity; A. H. Nathe, toys; Mert Hipsley, dolls; Clifford Meagher, bulletin; John Curtin, welfare; John DeMaria, Catholic action; Eugene Lombardi, sewing; Ervin Vickers, National Council of Catholic Women; Eugene Cullen, salvage; David X. Aungulin, agency clerical; Fred Acciari, clerical auxiliary; W. C. Phelps, Lucas Valley.

Members attended a mass at St. Rita's Church before the meeting. Mrs. Frank Duhme installed the officers. The Rev. John O'Hare, director of Catholic Social Service, thanked the auxiliary, led by outgoing president Mrs. Roger Yore, for its year's work.

Special guests were Mother Lewis Bertrand and Sister John Berchman of the Sisters of Nazareth, Sister Elfrieda and Sister Helena.

Father O'Hare presented Mrs. Yore with a certificate of appreciation from Archbishop John J. Mitty, and she received a statue from the auxiliary.

Chi Omega Alumnae Planning Parties Tomorrow, Sunday

June is a busy month for Marin Chi Omega Alumnae. Tomorrow at her Ross home, Mrs. Edward J. Ruff will entertain her 1961 Chi Omega convention committee for swimming and luncheon. There from Marin will be Mesdames Russ Lloyd, Richard Ryan, Robert L. Rhoads Jr. and Jorgen Pedersen. Mrs. Robert Jensen, a former Marinite, will attend from Napa.

Sunday at 11 a. m. the Kent Woodlands home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Henderson will be the setting for the annual couples spring party. This year it is a swimming and brunch party, planned by Mesdames Myles Chute, Pedersen, A. C. Kuehl, and the hostess.

Monday at 10 a. m., in the Kent Woodlands home of Mrs. Robert H. Berry, the new officers will conduct their first meeting. They are Mesdames Ralph Bernhardt, president; Les Vogel Jr., vice president; Eugene Cates, recording secretary; Leland Young, corresponding secretary; Berry, treasurer; Chute, fund raising chairman; Kuehl, Rhoads and Pedersen, Panhellenic committee.

Unbreakable Thread

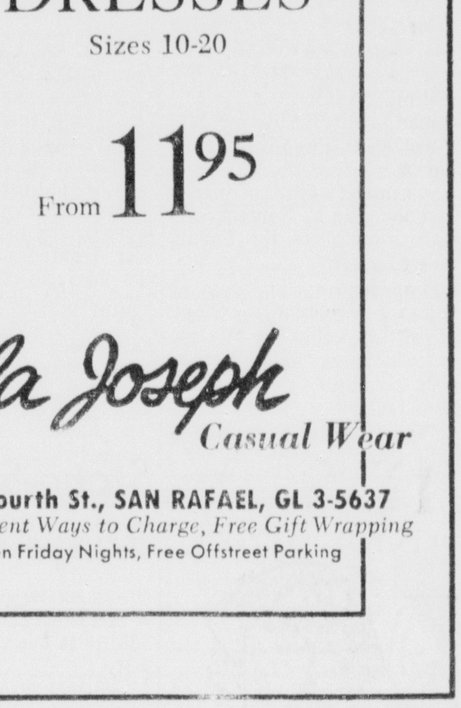

Nylon thread for home sewing, which is so strong that it is unbreakable by hand, is about to go on the market. A special bonding agent has been applied to the thread to give it a slight stiffness. This allows easy threading and helps the seamstress avoid the thread slipping on the spool. The thread is now being made in 18 colors.

Housewarming Is Held In Larkspur

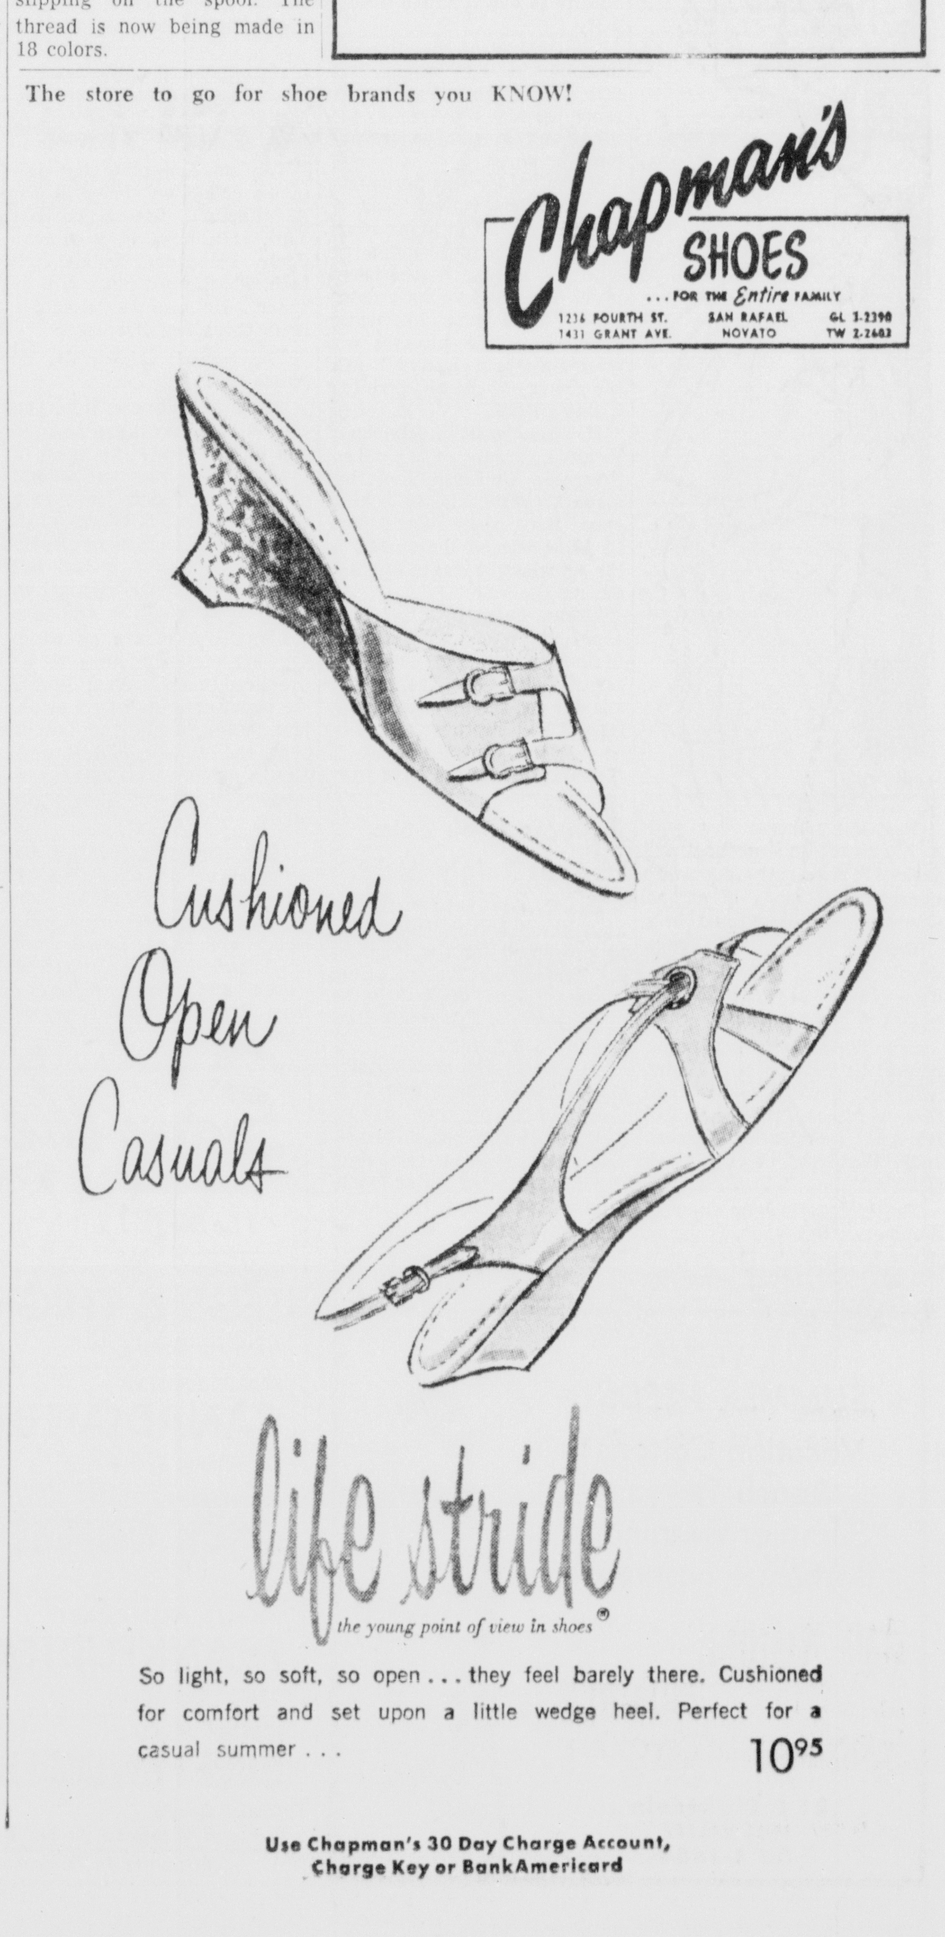

A housewarming party was given Monday afternoon for Mrs. Clarence Grochowski in Larkspur by a group of her friends. Mr. and Mrs. Grochowski have just moved into their home at 410 Williams Ave.

The friends arrived bearing a cake, refreshments and gifts for the honoree. After the buffet was served the guests played bridge.

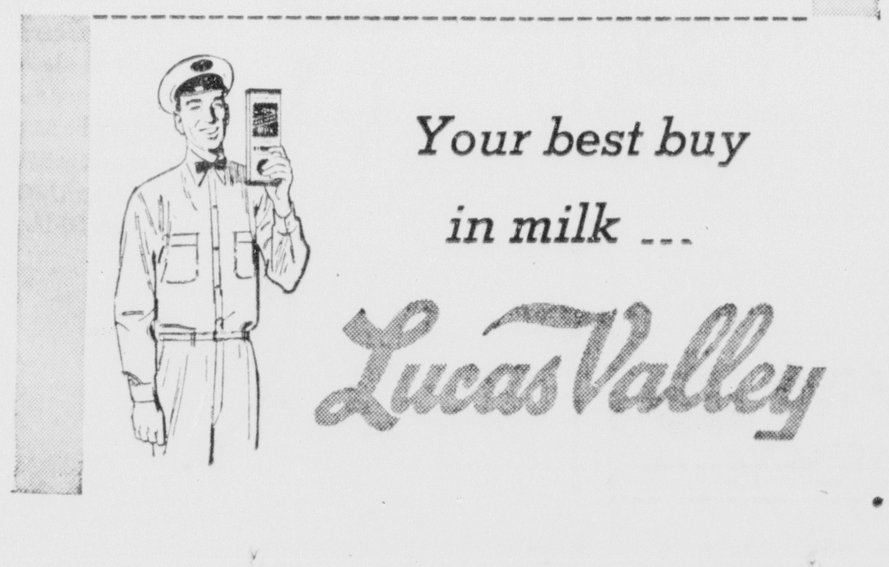

Those attending were Mesdames Frank Gunner, Eric Pesozzi, Sidney Geiger, Hans Wildermood, John E. Petricka, Ray Strohmeyer, John Mullen, Ed Kerbs, Gilio Bordoni, Helen Neils and John Satmary.

399 Students Will Receive Diplomas At San Rafael High

A class of 399 students is to receive diplomas at graduation exercises of San Rafael High School at 8 p.m. June 16 on the school athletic field.

Five students will speak at the commencement. They are Gary Ledson, senior class president during the fall term; Victoria Geneteau, American Field Service exchange student from Panama; Roger Smeets, American Field Service exchange student from Belgium; Pamela West and Gary Linscott.

Principal Ralph H. Phelps will present the class to Roderick P. Martinelli, president of the San Rafael Board of Education. Martinelli will award the diplomas.

Beth McKinnon, secretary of the Student Body Assn. for fall 1961, will assist Martinelli.

Rev. John Petroni of St. Raphael's Catholic Church will give the invocation, and Rev. Fred C. Braunschweiger, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, the benediction.

Byron Jones, vocal music instructor, will lead singing of the National Anthem. Michael Casselman, student body president, will lead the pledge of allegiance.

Gary Linscott will conduct the school hymn, "Hail San Rafael."

School Site Discussion Tonight At Lagunitas

A representative of the Marin County planning staff will discuss proposed or possible school sites in the San Geronimo Valley as it develops at 8 p.m. this evening in Lagunitas School with members of the Lagunitas School District board.

The board decided last night to meet June 22 instead of June 15 because of the rush of closing school.

Santa Rosa Graduate

Rachel Bachrach of Novato will receive a bachelor of arts degree and general elementary teaching credential at commencement exercises of the Santa Rosa Center of San Francisco State College at 7 p.m. today in Julliard Park. The ceremony will be the last of the center. Its functions will be assumed by Sonoma State College July 1.

Today is Thursday, June 8, the 159th day of the year with 206 more in 1961.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning stars are Jupiter, Saturn and Venus.

The evening stars are Mercury and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1861, Texas seceded from the union.

In 1869, American architect, Frank Lloyd Wright, was born.

In 1869, Ives McGaffey of Chicago obtained a patent for his vacuum cleaner, which he described as a "sweeping machine."

In 1886, Irish statesman Charles Parnell demanded home rule for Ireland in the House of Commons..

In 1959, the X-15 rocket ship made its first free flight over the Mohave Desert.

A thought for today: Soldier and politician Carl Schurz said: "Ideals are like stars; you will not succeed in touching them with your hands. But like the seafaring man on the desert of waters, you choose them as your guides, and following them you will reach your destiny."

We Need Highway Planning For The Good Of West Marin

Marin County Planning Commission has unanimously adopted the Bolinas-Stinson Beach master plan. But only after changing some wording regarding the highway which will run through Stinson Beach.

The original phrasing in the master plan was that this would be a "high speed, high capacity highway." To smooth the road ahead, the commissioners, at the planning director's suggestion, changed the wording to an "adequate capacity" highway.

Then the commission pointed out to Stinson Beachers that the master plan is "not the final word, it is only a general map" and does not show exactly where that highway will go or what an "adequate capacity" highway would look like.

In short, the master plan is being constructed around a highway whose size and location remain unknown.

This is exactly the situation we have been warning about ever since opponents of improving Highway 1 forced the Division of Highways to stop planning on that roadway.

How is it possible to make a sensible master plan when the key factor, the state highway, remains an unknown?

The Division of Highways was in the process of determining where such a road should go. They warned that it wouldn't be built for many years, about 10 years was the best estimate, but they were willing to decide where the right of way should go.

If they were permitted to go ahead with this project, then Stinson Beach could make a master plan which would have some meaning. If the route were laid down almost exactly, the whole community could be planned with some assurance that a highway change wouldn't upset the entire plan.

One of the big reasons opponents cited for delay was awaiting the report to the legislature of the directors of public works, natural resources, water departments and the chairman of the state planning office after a year's study of scenic highways.

That report came in earlier this year. It recommended another year-long study of a scenic highways system. A legislative resolution setting up such a study has passed in Sacramento.

It didn't even attempt to settle the major question, what is a scenic highway?

We think it's time to face the facts of the situation. West Marin is growing and will continue to grow. It wants to grow in a sensible and suitable manner, a manner designed for the beauty and the surroundings of its communities.

It can't plan for such growth until it knows where its highway will go. The kind of highway, whether one lane, two lanes or 10, can be decided later; whatever a "scenic highway" turns out to be can be constructed on the pre-determined route. Certainly an "adequate capacity" highway on a "general map" doesn't solve the problem.

Can't opponents of the highway relent enough to allow planning to continue so we don't wind up with a mess in West Marin?

Trails Of Silver—Bah!

The other day while studying our garden, we noted two trails of liquid silver leading into the periwinkle ground cover. They were the slime trails made by that interesting little enemy of Marin gardeners, the snail.

These trails are mucous laid down by the snails to enable them to glide more smoothly over rough spots. They put down their highway as they move along at the proverbial snail's pace and as they use it.

The Encyclopedia Brittanica says of snails: "They are mainly animals of retiring habits living on green plants . . ." Most Marin gardeners know only too well the truth of this statement. The little fellows always choose the finest plants it seems.

Generally speaking, Marin's soil is rather short of calcium. This is reflected in the brittle, papery, easily crushed shells of our snails. But our mild climate makes this county an ideal breeding ground for the little spiral-shelled mollusca.

Snails are fascinating, often attractive creatures. But don't try to tell it to a Marin gardener.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

AVOID BOTH EXTREMES

Three days in a disabled 16-foot boat on the Gulf of Mexico gave one 20-year-old fisherman first-hand experience of the dangers of the trade.

When the youth set out alone to try his luck near St. Petersburg, Fla., he never dreamed that his small outboard motor would fail and he would drift 25 miles out to sea.

By the time a Coast Guard helicopter rescued him, he had been adrift for 72 hours, and had had his fill of fishing.

Many a person loses heart in fulfilling a worthwhile purpose in life because he does not strike a happy balance between daring and caution.

When Christ told His apostles to be daring, to "launch out into the deep," Simon respectfully protested that he and his fellow fishermen had "labored all the night and have taken nothing." (Luke 5:5)

The disciples overcame their caution and trusting in the Lord, they let down their net, with the result that "they enclosed a very great multitude of fishes and their net broke." (Luke 5:6).

Teach me, O Lord, to avoid the extremes of being overly cautious or overly afraid.

Castro Won't Die On The Vine, Blow Away If We Ignore Him

WASHINGTON — The American people do not expect the Kennedy administration to act hastily or rashly in freeing the American continent from the Soviet-bloc dictatorship of Fidel Castro.

But there is one thing which the American people don't want—and can well do without, thank you—this line of soporific pap that if we will just close our eyes or turn out the lights or walk softly, Castro will go away.

This is the line now coming from some highly placed officials of theg overnment. If President Kennedy or Secretary of State Rusk lets this go on, the country will wonder who is really making the decisions in Washington.

I SAY THIS because nothing has come from Kennedy to suggest that if we will only hold our breath long enough and speed up the "Alianza Progresso," the Cuban Soviet Socialist dictatorship will crumble.

A high official voicing this wistful and wishful thinking offers the pleasant reassurance that "Castro will die on the vine."

If this official is speaking authoritatively, his statement means that the administration does not intend to face the hard realities of Castroism.

If he is not speaking authoritatively, the administration needs to state its position soon and clearly.

THERE IS NO precedent or prospect that a Communist police state can be overthrown by internal revolution.

Of course we should help Latin America build stronger economies and stronger democracies. But that won't remove a Soviet-anchored dictatorship from our midst. Other things needs doing:

1—A Cuban provisional government in exile needs to be established in a friendly democratic Central American republic. It could well be headed by a senior member of the Cuban Supreme Court (all of whom are now in exile). This government should be broadly representative of those Cuban leaders dedicated to social reform and restoration of free government.

2—Then the provisional government should be promptly recognized by those American republics willing to stand by the charter of the Organization of American States.

3—THERE SHOULD be an early meeting of the Foreign Ministers of the O. A. S. to consider all appropriate measures, including the use of force which is sanctioned under Article 8 of the Treaty of Rio de Janeiro. This treaty and the Declaration of Caracas authorize interveniton to defend the hemisphere against "the international Communist movement extending to this hemisphere the political system of an extra-continental power."

These steps would be in line with President Kennedy's public declaration warning that the "inter-American doctrine of non-interference" must not be allowed "to conceal or to excuse a policy of non-action."

Tam High District Is Latest To Study Team Teaching Techniques

LAST SUMMER at Drake High School in San Anselmo teachers of "Problems of American Democracy" worked together during the summer session in an informal experiment with team teaching.

This year we understand, a more formal experiment in team teaching will be made during the summer session, in the same subject and at the same school.

In "District Doings," the newsy little periodical published monthly by the Tamalpais Union High School District, we read with interest of plans for this experiment and the way the Tam District goes about investigating something new in education.

Ideas for changes, suggested by persons on the staff, are given careful and persistent study. Studies usually are done through the Curriculum Council, because most new ideas are concerned with instruction.

The next step is an experimental stage. "Things, even after studied, aren't rushed into. The panic button is not pressed, even when popular pressures sometimes threaten, even when clamor is nationwide. Things are done, but not in haste," District Doings tells us.

All this is to the good. We wrote in another column a short while back of Terra Linda High School's plans for team teaching, and there, too, careful study is underway before any decisions are made.

TEAM TEACHING is an exciting development, with tremendous possibilities for improving education methods. It has its disadvantages, too. It's good to know that Marin schools are studying it, but not hastening to adopt it.

Tam's periodical tells, too, about a promising experiment being made in team teaching in Evanston, Ill. The account is a fascinating one, and we heartily recommend you get hold of a copy and read it.

THE SUBJECT BEFORE the Marin Board of Supervisors budget hearing was a proposed $1,000 item for the civic center dedication.

Said chairman William Fusselman: "I wouldn't put $1,000 in it."

County Administrator Alan Bruce noted that the groundbreaking had cost about $500, including expenses for a stand, printing of a program and luncheon for invited guests.

Supervisor Walter Castro compromised and moved a $600 appropriation be approved. William Gnoss and George Ludy joined him in a "yes" vote. But J. Walter Blair voted "no." and Fusselman stood his ground in opposition to spending any money. "There was no dedication for this building," he commented, looking around the room. "We just moved in quietly."

MARIN COUNTY has been contracting for its janitor service with outside firms. At a recent budget hearing the supervisors approved a proposal for the county to hire its own maintenance staff, including six janitors and a janitor-foreman.

County Clerk George Jones commented that he knew someone who would be good for one of the jobs. And administrator Bruce observed that he thought maybe Jones was going to nominate him for one of the openings. Bruce loses his present job as of June 23 when the ordinance abolishing the county administrator's office becomes effective.

WHEN THAT BIG sailboat got stuck in the mud over night recently near the entrance to th San Rafael Canal, it pointed up the bad condition of the main channel in that area.

Fred Manley, harbormaster of Loch Lomond Marina, says the channel very much needs to be dredged, and he hopes the Army Engineers do something about it.

A little boy brought a canary in a cage to the local chiropodist. "It hasn't sung or made a sound in a week," complained the boy. "But what do you expect me to do about it?" grumbled the chiropodist. "Well," said the boy, "mom says you're a good chiropodist. Make the canary chirop."

A man in a big limousine had tried vainly for half an hour to pull away from a small foreign car that was doggedly trailing him. As he hit 90, the small car drew alongside.

"I say," yelled the driver, "do you know anything about this make of car? I can't get it out of low gear."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY: Women Voters League Discusses Administrator

(NOTE: In a footnote to a letter from a reader, the I-J suggested that the League of Women Voters or the California Taxpayers Association study the county administrator's functions and effectiveness. This is the report submitted to us by the League of Women Voters of Marin County.)

Whoever heard of a baseball team without a manager?

No matter what the operation, there should be one person with final responsibility; one person who cannot pass the buck because he has nobody to whom to pass it.

Passing the buck and inefficiency are two very expensive governmental operations in a democracy.

There are 26 departments in the Marin County government and buck-passing among them can become a Big Thing.

Time was when each of these departments acted as an independent opertion. Each bought its own supplies, ordered its own printing, hired its own help, and made certain to present a "high" estimate of financial needs in order to survive the cuts and slashes in the annual Battle of the Budget. Time was, too, when the tax rate (1955) was $2.55.

The 1961 tax rate is $2.12. Mind you, government services have increased in the face of a 22 per cent population rise. The cost of almost everything has gone up. A reduction in our tax rate, then, is not luck. It is the result of careful and coordinated planning. To the credit of the office of administrator, Marin County does not have one cent of bonded indebtedness.

Although the State Board of Equalization ordered our assessments raised, our per capita assessment is lower than all six surrounding Bay Area counties except Alameda. Since the assessment determines the amount of money the county has to spend, even with what tax money has been produced, coordinated, well-managed government has managed to pay, out of income, for $5 million of capital improvement. We have a new wing on the courthouse, an improved Juvenile Home, a school for the handicapped, considerable road improvement, and the work done to date on the Civic Center. All pay-as-you-go; no debts.

There are still 26 departments in the county government, but coordinated under an administrator these departments have learned that although things may be cheaper by the dozen, they're still cheaper by the dozens of dozens.

Now instead of independent department purchases, there is the master contract plan. That means not only the savings of volume buying, but buying by competitive bidding—an economy unheard of before the establishment of the Office of County Administrator.

Since greater volume purchase is still more economical, the administrator has worked out a cooperative arrangement with 10 cities, 26 or more school districts, the County Housing Authority, and the water districts for central volume purchasing.

Specifically, there is the matter of gasoline. For the county, as well as for the cooperating public entities (the schools, water districts, etc.) there will be a saving, in 1961, of $21,000.

What the voter must keep in mind is the fact that those $21,000 are not their money, they're his. It is only good business for a voter to want his local government to seek out and effect such savings.

Budgets (which really are only plans for spending the tax payers' money on services he needs and is entitled to) are arrived at somewhat differently from the pre-Administration days.

There's no longer a hit-and-miss declaration of financial needs. Since 1958 each department head has been required to forecast the work of his department, estimate the cost of those programs and, by such planning, reach a budget estimate. The next step is conference and revision.

Pre-administrator procedures put the conference-and-revision discussions on the agenda of individual board members. Now it is the administrator's job, and the board is free to pursue its main function of establishing policy.

The administrator holds two separate series of conferences with each department head before the entire budget is submitted to the Board of Supervisors. Possible economies are discussed, agreed upon, or discarded during these pre-submittal conferences.

In addition to the economies and reductions agreed upon between the department head and the administrator, the administrator can—and does—make further suggestions for economies to the board. In the 1957-1958 budget the supervisors adopted more than half the recommended cuts ($426,111 recommended; $237,174 acted on). What is finally produced is a realistic, workable budget.

A most valuable difference in budget problems was put into effect by the administrator. Each month each department head reports to the administrator and the Board of Supervisors. What has been done is compared for cost and effectiveness with the department's forecast. It doesn't take long, under such frequent proof-of-the-puddings, for everybody to see who is doing what, and it's getting harder all the time to find players for a fast game or pass the buck.

Personnel practices have changed because no administrator is going to accept as his responsibility the inefficiency of a department because the head of it wanted his niece, nephew or neighbor to get a job. Now, instead of haphazard, trust-to-luck hiring there is a personnel office for all hiring with experienced interviewing (a saving of time), centralized advertising (a saving of money), effective choice of qualified persons for the particular job (probably a great saving of temper). The County is assured of a higher-than-previously-hired calibre of help. Employees are assured of security in jobs to which they are suited.

This could have happened 10 years ago. In 1951 the voters established a limited civil service ordinance by popular vote. It was not until 1957, when the administrator recruited staff and set up a full scale operation that its effectiveness could be proved. Personnel turnover—and its concommitant loss of time and money—has been reduced from 23.6 per cent in 1957 to 17.6 per cent in 1960. Why did this take so long to happen? The ordinance was there. Nobody was against it. There just wasn't anybody to follow through and see that it was implemented.

Civil Defense comes under the Office of County Administrator. If that office is abolished who will take over invoices and requisitions, the purchase of government surplus supplies, and all the other details involved?

Before the administrator was designated, civil defense was a separate department with a $17,000 slice of the budget. Under an administrator the operation is handled for $4,983—not only for the county as a whole, but that budget takes care of the need of seven cooperating cities, as well.

The "housekeeping function" of the administrator's office is another valuable asset: Besides providing duplicating service for all county departments, it also warehouses articles of common use purchased through the Central Purchasing Division. Now, for the first time in the history of the county, we have a complete inventory of county equipment.

Even postage ($27,400 in 1960) is cheaper, because another housekeeping function of the administrator's office is getting out all county mail—on postage meters.

There is take about our not needing an administrator because departments could be absorbed by other departments, and it would "all work out."

There's only one trouble with that thought: it doesn't all work out—not to the taxpayers' benefit, at any rate.

Only one quote from an analysis which was made at the request of a Grand Jury:

"We have learned by experience that diffused authority may impair the public's control over its own affairs, making it difficult to fix responsibility for wrong acts or no action; and that the affairs of government have become so complex and so costly that some good, old-fashioned business management is essential."

Belveron Cleanup Contest Slated

Three competitive committees will clean up and weed the three entrance ways in Belveron, with the best job awarded a prize of a flowering shrub, it was decided by the Belveron Property Owners Assn.

Committee chairmen are John A. Heins, Winston A. Jones and Mrs. Allen A. Olson.

The association has approved an additional pledge of $500 toward the cost of the Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council's incorporation study, association president Allen A. Olson said.

$25,000 Sought In Boy's Fall

A Daly City boy, who says he fell through a fire escape opening and dropped one floor at Fair-Anselm Shopping Center in Fairfax, filed a $25,000 damage suit Tuesday in Marin Superior Court.

Michael R. Green, 9, is suing the shopping center through his father, Raymond A. Green. The mishap occurred last May 9, Michael says he was walking along the second floor corridor when he fell through a fire escape and landed on the first floor. He seeks damages for injuries to his right hand, arm, and shoulder, and shock and fright.

Special Marinwood Rec Meeting Tonight

Marinwood Community Services District directors will meet in special session tonight at 8 o'clock in Silveira School, Mrs. Fred Bolding, business manager, announced.

The board will meet to sign a contract with the Dixie School District for summer recreation, Mrs. Bolding reported.

Sausalito Central Teacher Retiring

Mrs. Dorothy M. Brown, third grade teacher at Central School in Sausalito for 15 years, will retire this month.

Brought up in Marin County, Mrs. Brown first taught in San Francisco, left teaching, then returned to the work in 1946 at Central. She has taught all primary grades.

She lives at 15 Estelle Avenue. Her plans are to travel and play some bridge. Regarding her career, she said, "It's been delightful."

Black Point Gets PG&E Deadline

Black Point residents have until June 19 to sign the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for construction of a gas pipeline to the area.

So far, 112 residents of the 134 required to guarantee construction of the line have signed, Lee C. Wise, PG&E manager in Novato, reported yesterday.

Black Point residents must agree to take the gas service for three years and deposit $50, which will be refunded when service is established.

Drake Diplomats Award Scholarship

The Sir Francis Drake High School International Friendship Club, the Drake Diplomats, presented a scholarship award of $150 to the American Field Service exchange student program to be used next year by a student to a Drake exchange student.

The Drake Diplomats also presented $25 to the Drake School Aid committee to help support La Villa Escolante, the Mexican school Drake adopted.

PASTURES ARE PAVED

Tiburon Meeting On Incorporation

Speakers for and against incorporation of Tiburon will present their views at Reed Heights Improvement Club meeting tonight at 7:45 o'clock in the home of its president, Dick DeBerry, 594 Virginia Drive.

Speaking for incorporation will be Fred C. Hannehs, Tiburon Property Owners Assn. president and member of the incorporation committee. Presenting the side against incorporation will be Robert J. Sterling, Tiburon sanitary district secretary and member of the committee against incorporation.

Hospital Post

Dr. Edward M. Weinshel has been appointed chief of psychiatry for Mount Zion Hospital and Medical Center in San Francisco, replacing Dr. Cyrus R. Friedman of Sausalito. Dr. Friedman resigned to return to the East.

Scientist Studying Tiny Dust Particles Believed From Moon

NEW YORK (UPI)—When you deal with spheres the sizes of those which three scientists believe may be dust right off the surface of the moon, you deal with the extremely tiny.

If you could line up the tinitest of these tiny spheres side by side (which you can't) it would take several hundred millions of them to equal one inch. They range upward from that extreme to sizes several hundred times larger but that is largeness only by comparison.

By now you may be wondering where scientists have been gathering moon dust. The answer is more than 11 miles over Arctic regions in one of those high-flying U-2 planes which became world-celebrated in an international incident of monumental proportions.

This U-2 carried a particle collector which is only three sheets of a very thin and highly sensitive film supported on copper mesh. These sheets were exposed at 60,000 feet for six hours and six minutes.

To the unaided eye they looked entirely naked when they were turned over to Curtis L. Hemenway and Ernest F. Fullam of Dudley Observatory, Albany, N.Y. and Laurence Phillips of Union College, Schenectady.

But the electron microscope revealed "enormous numbers" of particles, some spherical in shape, others irregularly shaped, but all of high density. Preliminary analysis indicated that they are mainly particles of a chemical form of nickel.

The scientists have had particles collected at lower altitudes, by plane and balloon. This experience has shown them that solid particles of earthy origin are more or less non-existent above 50,000 feet. This meant to them that the particles had originated somewhere out in space.

Now, anything which enters the earth's atmosphere from the outside is a meteorite and meteorites have been identified which are too small for the naked eye to see. These are the micrometeorites.

But these particles are approximately a thousand times smaller than micrometeorites. The scientists considered the possibility that they were the slight remains of larger meteorites which had disintegrated in friction-produced heat in the earth's atmosphere.

However, they were inclined to believe they originated in the thick layers of "dust" which cover much of the moon and got into the earth's Arctic atmosphere from magnetic fields of space.

On the sheets of film they were always clustered, which suggested to the scientists that when collected they were within large particles. These larger ones evaporated afterwards, probably when encountered by the beam of electrons of the electron microscope, the scientists reasoned.

At the time of collecting, which was last November 15, the sun was erupting and giant solar flares were observed on November 12 and again on the very day the U-2 was exposing the collecting films. The scientists thought there might be a connection but they couldn't say, of course, what it was.

United Nations was put into these charts. This showed that the formula was progressively wrong as body weight increased and for the heaviest persons was some 500 daily calories too high.

The scientists included R. Passmore who is well known for his work in human physiology. The others were W. Z. Billewicz, a statistician, and A. M. Thomson, a specialist in public health. They work at the universities in Aberdeen and Edinburgh, Scotland.

Their statistical findings involved contradictions, they granted in reporting to the technical journal The Lancet. Exact weight requires extra energy both when the body is at rest and when it is active, and this cannot be disputed, they said.

Yet their statistics "point clearly to the conclusion that within the 'normal' range of weights at least, increasing weight is not accompanied by much rise in food intake."

What this has to mean, they continued, is that the heavier a person is the less physically active he is likely to be—generally speaking, of course.

Switching from these people whose weight was more or less normal in comparison to body size to people who are clearly overweight, the scientists recalled a number of studies which indicated that "obese subjects do not as a rule eat more than non-obese controls and many indeed eat less."

This has to mean that like heavy people of normal weight the fat are less inclined than the light and lean to exert themselves physically. "In obesity, sloth may be more important than gluttony," they said.

Notary Issuance

CALORIE CHARTS CHALLENGED

Scientists Declare Heavy Persons Not Heavy Eaters

NEW YORK (UPI)—It has been proved statistically that heavy people don't really eat more on the average than light persons. This automatically challenges the truth of the calorie charts in use throughout the world which allot calories by body weight.

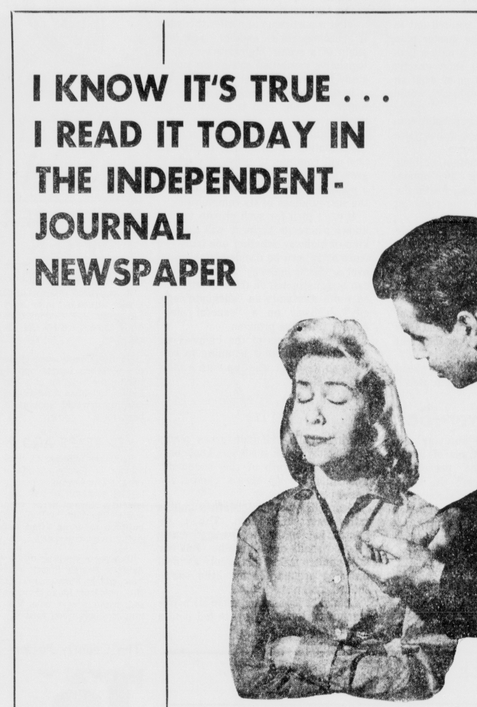

Three scientists took figures gathered in the British Isles, the United States, and South Africa. The figures came from scientific nutrition studies which measured the necessary elements—caloric intake, and body weight in proportion to body height.

They put some 900 individual calculations of this sort into their statistical mill, and took into account indirectly similar calculations covering hundreds of other individuals. And all individuals were "normal" in health and weight. These were no measurements of the obese.

Furthermore, they covered people of all conditions—men and women, young and old; men compared with men and women compared with women; pregnant women and non-pregnant women compared as groups.

These statistics were reduced to charts and to statistical curves. The curves demonstrated that there were no significant differences in the food consumption in calories of the heavy and the light.

The calories-by-body weight formula of the Food and Agricultural Organization of the

Sausalito Boy In Bike Mishap

A 15-year-old bicyclist who apparently collided with a car in Tiburon Tuesday night was in good condition yesterday in Marin General Hospital.

Warren V. Glass III of Wolf Rock Ridge, Sausalito, suffered scrapes on the face, a possibly broken left ankle and possible concussion.

The driver of the car, Richard B. Ullman, 28, of 1875 Centro West, Tiburon, told the California Highway Patrol a boy on a bicycle with no lights rode in front of his car at Vistazo West and St. Bernard Road.

Ullman turned sharply to the left, saw a second boy on a bicycle and swerved back to the right, he said.

Ullman said he was not driving more than five miles per hour.

Meeting Set On College Courses

New courses to be offered at the College of Marin will come before the board of trustees of the college district at a meeting at 8 p.m. this evening in room 61 of the art building on the campus.

Paul Clymer, vice president, will report on new courses recommended.

Other matters to come before the board include contracts for non-teaching personnel, one resignation and hiring three employees.

Corte Madera Toy Store Sold

The Toy World, 74 Freeway in the Corte Madera Shopping Center, has been purchased by Mr. Herbert of Hayward from Wills Stores, Inc.

Harbert was owner of Els' Toy Chest in Hayward for 15 years.

The Corte Madera store is now closed for inventory and restocking. It is expected to reopen about June 15 with larger lines, Harper said.

There will be no change in the name.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Promotion Day Brings Thrills— But Some Are Disappointed

Promotion day! Remember the thrill you felt when you were told you had passed? And the fun you had looking into the room you'd enter next fall?

Our kids are like us. They forget all their troubles on promotion day. Teachers are happy, too. Life seems very good.

Except, of course, for the children who aren't promoted. It may be the worst day of their lives. They won't share their friends' joy. They'll turn inward and feel afraid. They may feel bleak, self-conscious, unhappy.

Do you have a child who will not be promoted? Then be careful. Help him over the hump.

Don't scold him or criticize him. Don't say "I told you so." Instead give him your love and support. He needs your helping hand, hello. Explain why reposting the grade will be good for him. Help him see that he really needs to learn the things he didn't get this year. Show him that he'll be a stronger student the rest of his life, because of the repeating.

I hope the decision to stay over was partly his. Then he won't feel so put upon.

How about his summer vacation? I suggest you let him relax. He has tasted failure frequently. Few things are more unsettling. He needs to have fun doing the things he does well. If he swims well, let him swim. Or fish, or hike, and be a big shot with his friends. Then he may be ready for a new struggle in the fall.

His your young repeater been studied by a psychologist? Every child who is held over should be tested. Many schools test them, automatically. If yours doesn't, hire a psychologist yourself. Have individual intelligence and accomplishment tests given. Be sure the psychologist reports to your child's teacher in the fall. Then she'll have a better chance of meeting his needs.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Are children from homes in which no English is spoken handicapped in regular school tests?"

T.S.F.

(A) Yes, they are. Tests assume all the children have spoken English from the start, and have had an equal opportunity to learn the words used.

Five States Boost Driver License Fee

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Driver license fees in five Western States were raised by recent legislation, it was learned.

Alaska raised its fee from $3 to $5 but lengthened the period from one to two years. Idaho doubled its $2 fee and Montana raised its fee from $3 to $4. New Mexico raised the chauffeur's license fee from $2 to $2.75 and the operator's license fee from $2 to $3.25. Utah raised the license fee to $3 and the renewal fee from $1 to $2 but cut the license period from five to three years except for safe drivers.

Montana and New Mexico are also now putting photographs of drivers on their licenses.

Inmate In Solitary For Escape Try

A San Quentin disciplinary committee Tuesday sentenced an attempted escapee to 29 days in solitary confinement and referred his case to the Marin County district attorney's office for possible prosecution on an escape charge.

The inmate, try of Larry Joe Robertson, 22, burglar and forger from Stanislaus County, was foiled a week ago when he dropped a bar he had just sawed from the prison block into the yard below.

Robertson entered San Quentin last June under sentence of up to 15 years. He was denied parole by the Adult Authority last month.

MILLER SAYS:

Attended Hearings On Water

By REP. CLEM MILLER

WASHINGTON — This week I made my annual appearances before the House and Senate appropriations committees as a witness on behalf of water resource development in our district.

I testified to the need to move ahead now on some two-dozen flood control and harbor improvement projects up and down the Redwood Empire.

I asked Congress to spend five million dollars of the Nation's tax money for public works appropriations between Marin and Del Norte counties. This would be a considerable step up from last year, when Congress appropriated about three million dollars for such work in our district.

In addition to the immediate benefits of preventing recurrent flood damages—along the Russian River or at Orick for example—flood control makes the river valleys usable for people to live and work in. It also provides a guaranteed water supply for private and industrial needs.

Our region has a bountiful supply of water—nearly one-fourth of the runoff water in California. But until we control our rivers and streams, we will continue to have damaging floods and also seasonal shortages.

Our region also has a coastline with many fine existing and potential harbors. Federal harbor improvement projects not only have the lives and vessels of fishermen, but also create a base on which new industry can build.

For example, this year I am asking Congress to invest $500,000 in Noyo Harbor—near Fort Bragg on the Mendocino Coast. We want the Army Engineers to help us build a breakwater to make Noyo a safe harbor. Members of the Noyo Harbor Commission and I are convinced that such action will mean the Noyo fishing fleet will be saved.

We are confident the breakwater will mean that Noyo will become a lumber port. It will mean that redwood produced on the Mendocino Coast can compete in the overseas export market and the paper mill market at Antioch and elsewhere in San Francisco Bay.

The program which I recommended this week was worked out in cooperation with a number of Bay Area chambers of commerce and private organizations, as well as with the local flood control and harbor districts, boards of supervisors of seven counties and the State Water and Small Craft Harbors commissions.

This high degree of local participation helps prospects for appropriations for needed projects this year.

Meeting Set On College Courses

New courses to be offered at the College of Marin will come before the board of trustees of the college district at a meeting at 8 p.m. this evening in room 61 of the art building on the campus.

Paul Clymer, vice president, will report on new courses recommended.

Other matters to come before the board include contracts for non-teaching personnel, one resignation and hiring three employees.

Corte Madera Toy Store Sold

The Toy World, 74 Freeway in the Corte Madera Shopping Center, has been purchased by Mr. Herbert of Hayward from Wills Stores, Inc.

Harbert was owner of Els' Toy Chest in Hayward for 15 years.

The Corte Madera store is now closed for inventory and restocking. It is expected to reopen about June 15 with larger lines, Harper said.

There will be no change in the name.

5 Marin Youths Join Air Force

Five Marin County young men enlisted in the Air Force during the month of May, it has been announced.

They are: Benjamin I. Collins, son of Mrs. Mavis Anger, 22 El Camino Drive, Corte Madera; Kenneth C. Ambler Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Ambler, 148 Filbert, Sausalito; Patrick O. Horrell, son of Sgt. 1/c and Mrs. Billy C. Horrell, 146 Willow Avenue, Corte Madera.

Also: Frank G. McFarland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. McFarland, 1203 Ridgeview Heights, Novato; and Paul A. Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew A. Thomas, 2 Thomas Court, San Rafael.

Five entered the Air Force with prior service: Dale S. Culuris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve C. Culuris, 1362 Monte Maria, Novato; Roy Overby Jr.; Jim W. Wilson; Johnnie Brown; and K. D. Ericksson.

The men with prior service re-enlisted through the local recruiting office at 819 A Street, San Rafael.

Three Graduating From Golden Gate

Three residents of Marin County will receive degrees from Golden Gate College during the 16th annual commencement ceremonies in San Francisco's Veterans War Memorial Building Tuesday at 8 p.m.

They are Joy Hong, daughter of Mrs. Sit See Hong, 21 Forest Street, Mill Valley, who will receive the B. S. degree; Ali Rashid, 7 Benton Court, Tiburon, who will receive the degree of master of business administration, and Clarence O. Amonette Jr., of Shady Lane, Ross, who will also receive the M.B.A. degree.

All three earned their degree through evening study. Miss Hong is a bookkeeper with Laurance Meyers Scaffolding Co. in San Francisco. Rashid is a valuation engineer with Southern Pacific Co., in San Francisco. Amonette is office manager of J. H. Pomeroy and Co. in San Francisco.

Museum's Snake Sold For $26

A 15-year-old San Francisco girl, who has garter snakes, chameleons, hamsters, mice and rabbits in her home, submitted the successful bid of $26 Tuesday for the king snake donated by the Junior Museum of Marin to the KQED television auction.

Donna Wright bid $26 for the snake, which received more bids than anything else in the auction. Proceeds of the annual event help support the educational television station. A total of $8,100 was raised on the first night of the auction, which continues through Saturday.

Two Join Army

Two Marin County young men enlisted in the army during May at the Marin Army Recruiting office, 819 A Street, San Rafael. They are John Schnell, son of Mrs. Rose Cecelia Schnell, 489 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur, and Gerald Krautkremer of 260 Princeton Road, Mill Valley.

Boo Villain, Cheer Hero, See 'Foiled!'

By BRUCE COLEMAN

When a woman laughs so hard that her chair slips down between the slats of the platform of the Sausalito Little Theater, then you know the show is funny.

"Foiled" is that funny.

"Foiled" or "A Struggle for Life and Liberty" is the current summer melodrama production, written by O. W. Cornish and directed by Bob Hagopian. It plays Fridays and Saturdays at 8:30 p.m.

Square-jawed, clear-eyed hero Neil Whitman sets the pace for this real "Am-ar-i-can" story of the Civil War.

He's good.

His blank-eyed, too-true mother (Phyllis Stuart) is U.S.A. marvelous. You have to love her.

Lou Mason plays the comic, bumpkin hero. When he discovers Whitman, who has escaped a Southern prison with his wife (Roberta Taylor) Mason can't believe his eyes.

Miss Taylor, when shot, hangs limp over a post. She's even funny when she's limp. In fact, everyone's funny.

Marian Eaton, as the dizzy girl, is very good and Ed Fisher is in character. Jim Merrill heckles from the sidelines.

Oleos presented before "Foiled" include a sophisticated declamation called "Barbara Fritchie" by Pennell Chapin and Martha Wax; Val Bleeker singing "Drummer Boy at Shiloh"; Nan Fowler singing "Two Brothers," and Jetaun Fisher and R. Reutlinger in a cakewalk. Leonard Jared, oleo director, adds to the tempo on a tinny piano.

Viewers Getting A Chance To See Another Rare Sport

"Summer Sports Speectacular" will introduce the intricacies of still another seldom seen sport to television viewers tonight.

The show, to be seen on KPIX from 7:30 to 8:30, will cover a lacrosse match between the Army and Navy academies from Annapolis.

Lacrosse is, as anyone who has followed the sport knows, a fast-moving and exciting game. While American teams do not play the brand of lacrosse that is seen in Canada, home of the sport, the two squads which will be seen performing tonight on TV represent the best available in this country.

Navy went into the clash undefeated and seeking its second consecutive national championship. Army had a seven win-one loss record. And it was the 34th lacrosse meeting between the two academies, Navy having won 17 times, Army 14, and with two contests ending in ties.

The match was actually played last Saturday and taped. But we won't spoil things by telling you who won.

KQED'S fund-raising auction continues tonight with Bay Area personalities offering a wide range of merchandise for sale.

The auction will be on the air until midnight this evening, and again tomorrow from 4 p.m. until midnight. The event will then close Saturday with a marathon 2 p.m. till 2 a.m. session.

It's a once-a-year opportunity for viewers to give the fine non-commercial station a well-deserved financial boost— and, at the same time, to pick up some real values while enjoying themselves.

TONIGHT AT 10:30 on KPIX you can see a repeat of what we regard as one of the finest of the many splendid documentaries produced for the "CBS Reports" series.

It is the true story of the investigation of a New York slaying, and its message is a sobering one. That message: The wheels of justice must always turn with caution and with the utmost respect for the rights of the individual suspect. Otherwise, the end result can well be injustice.

In this particular case a young suspect was arrested. And as the result of what now seems to have been some overly zealous work on the part of law enforcement officers and sensational and prejudicial coverage by segments of the press, the youth's chances for a fair day in court were seriously jeopardized.

Eventually, as the result of some brilliant work by his attorney, the prime witness against the boy was almost totally discredited. And the youth won his freedom after a harrowing ordeal.

But the warning is there, to law officers and to the public in general: It must never be forgotten that the suspect, no matter how black the circumstances against him, is always to be presumed innocent until proven guilty in court.

TOMORROW, at 6:30 p.m., KRON's "Assignment Four" will take a look at the job prospects of the nearly 34,000 students in the six Bay Area counties who are graduating from high school and college this month.

Some of the students will be heard along with employment experts who will explain why jobs are becoming scarcer and why training and technical skill demand is climbing.

Every square inch of tillable land on the island of Formosa is used to grow garden crops. Even the spaces between railroad tracks are cultivated.

A Treat For Sausalito Youngsters

The 20 or so children who troop into the Sausalito Public Library each Thursday afternoon to hear a story will get a special treat June 15.

On that day at 3:30 p.m., they'll meet a real live author who has owned a real lion cub and has written about the pet's adventures in "I'm Tired of Lions."

The writer is Zhenya Gay, who is spending the summer in Sausalito. Mrs. Josephine Ripley, Sausalito librarian, reports Miss Gay's book one of the most popular of the Junior Literary Guild 1961 selections.

Those who will meet the author are for the most part between the ages of 4 and 8. Each Thursday it is their custom to march into the front part of the library, sit down and wait until Mrs. "Dolly" Georgetti, library assistant, comes in to begin a story.

They are accompanied on the weekly adventure by their mothers, grandmothers or neighbors, who take turns at the escort duty.

Note the quality! Pieces have new "no drop" drawers.

Drawers roll on ball-bearing tracks . . . remain level even when opened more than halfway . . . and, they can't come out if opened too far! They won't stick, either!

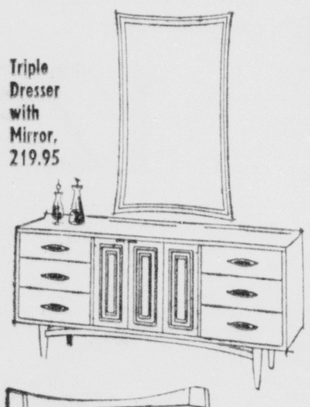

Large Chest, 149.95

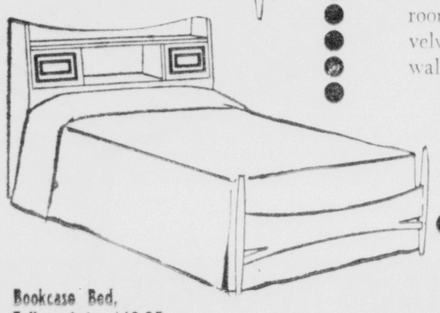

Sleek and simple with purpose . . . this exquisite new grouping is equally at home in the city apartment or suburban home.

The design motif . . . a theme taken from modern wood sculpture. Especially interesting is the molded relief on doors and drawers, the back galleries that curve upward to the wall, the recessed drawer pulls.

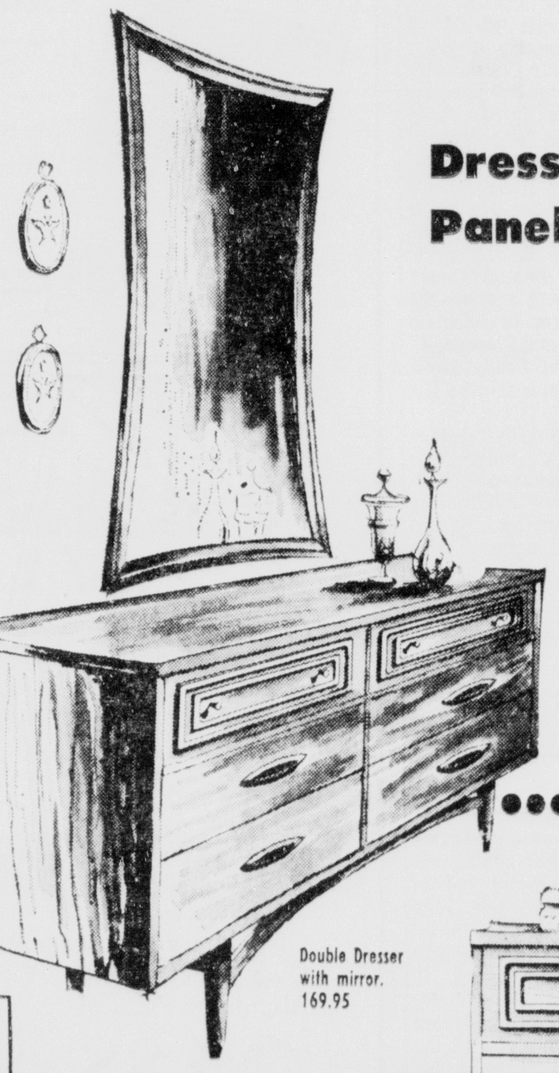

And decorating with this group is a real pleasure, for its subtle hint of import sophistication takes perfectly to today's decorating colors. Come to Lachman Bros., see it displayed in tasteful looking room settings . . . feel the velvet touch of hand-rubbed walnut veneers.
